

LUCKY PUMPKIN! If you can pry your eyes loose from the lower part of the picture, you'll realize there is a jack-o'-lantern (left, of course) trying desperately to remind you that next Thursday's Halloween. Chief support for the smiling Jack is luscious Louella Keough, 18, 1911 Holloway, a graduate of Springfield (Ky.) high school. Mrs. Burres was around when Jim Burres shot the picture, so he didn't get to take her measurements.

3 Injured In 3-Car Wreck

Three persons were injured, one seriously, in a three-car accident Friday in the 1400 block of W. Michigan. Walter Leak, 32, 1061 W. 27th, had improved and was in fair condition Wednesday at General hospital with severe lacerations about his head and face.

Leak was a passenger in the car driven east on Michigan by Warren Leak, Jr., 706 N. Sheffield, which police said struck the west-bound car of Mrs. Dorothy M. Boyd, 2242 N. Centennial, went out of control and struck the auto driven by Mrs. Ann Elaine Abbott, 5553 Rockville road.

Also injured in the mishap were the junior Leak, who sustained facial cuts, and Mrs. Abbott, who suffered multiple cuts to her knees, arms and face. All three were taken to General hospital.

Warren Leak, Jr., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, reckless driving, and driving without an operator's license.

Attacks Alumni Hear New, Old Principals at Mass Meeting

WIFE DOESN'T "GO" FOR BEING HIT OVER HEAD

Showing police a 1½" gash on her head as proof, Mrs. Vivian Holland, 28, 3470 N. Kenwood, told them her husband, Cleophus, 37, 528 Bright, had hit her over the head with a telephone chair.

He also threw hot water on her, she claimed, and had the burns on her arm and abdomen to back her charge. Mrs. Holland, who said she would prosecute, was treated at Methodist hospital.

More than 300 Crispus Attucks high school alumni and other persons attended the mass meeting held in the high school auditorium recently, in a tribute to Alexander Moore. William A. Taylor is president of the Attucks Alumni Association, which sponsored the tribute.

Mr. Moore, new principal, is an alumnus of the school. Speaking on "A Philosophy of Education in a Changing World," he set forth five challenges he feels education poses today.

EVIDENCE OF WHAT? Police, after noticing a steady stream of men going to and from Grace's Shine Parlor, 526 Indiana, Monday night decided to see what was so interesting that so many people were getting their shoes shined. Surprise upon surprise, they found an opening leading to the Log Cabin restaurant next door. The sight of money and several bottles of whiskey and wine lying on a table attracted their attention, and in they went to find $115 in currency, $74.45 in change and enough hard liquor to stock a liquor store. Pictured is just part of the "loot" confiscated. (Recorder Photo by Jim Burres)

WINE, GUN SNUFF OUT LIVES OF TWO

LOLA MAE ADAMS, found dead in rear basement of Lexington Apartments.

1 Found Dead; One Killed In Fuss Over 75c

The lives of two Indianapolis women were snuffed out during what appeared to be an otherwise quiet weekend.

A shooting over a 75c debt, which she allegedly refused to pay the 78-year-old crippled man who claimed she owed it, brought sudden and violent death to a near-Westside woman Saturday and the arrest of the man police said fired the fatal shot.

The death of a near-Northside woman, found sprawled in a corner of a cold, dank basement, was attributed by police investigators to a combination of excess alcohol in the blood stream and natural causes.

Dead are Julia Mae Andrews, 44, and Lola Mae Adams, 38.

The 44-year-old woman, who lived at 831 Paca, died shortly after noon Saturday of a bullet wound in the chest, and Samuel Lay was being held in the Marion County jail this week on a preliminary charge of murder in connection with the shooting.

CAHS Pupils At High School Press Confab

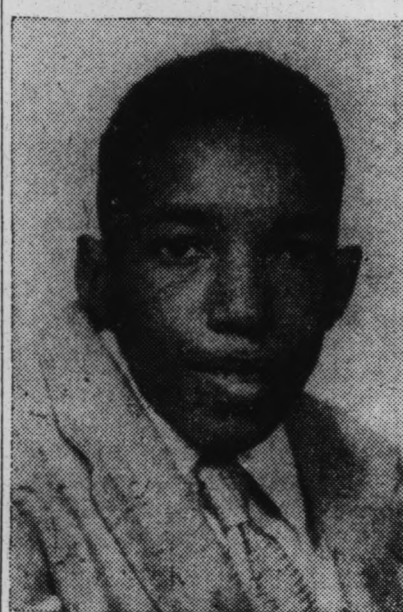

Eleven Crispus Attucks students and two advisers are attending the 36th annual convention of the Indiana High School Press Association at Franklin College, October 25-26.

Helen Chubb, Attucks publications assistant and former school paper editor, will lead a panel discussion on "How Far Should We Go in Editorials?" Ruth Busch is secretary of the student division of the organization.

Other Attucks students attending the convention include Willie Mae Clark, Bertha Overton, Mary Buckner, Carol Cagle, Elwood Black, Jane Coleman, Patricia Ann Wilson, Brenda Moore and Ronald Cushmanberry.

Mrs. Doris Bradford, director of publications and vice-president of the faculty division of the convention, and Mrs. Furniss Holloway, newspaper adviser, are accompanying the Attucks students.

Attucks Student Was Pleasant Despite Physical Handicap

RODNEY MYLES

Rodney Myles, 18, enjoyed watching baseball and basketball, which were his favorite sports, but he was not able to participate in these activities because he had suffered from curvature of the spine.

Rodney, who lived at 4126 Byram, died Oct. 13 in General hospital. He had suffered from a heart condition and developed pneumonia.

A native of Mound Bayou, Miss., Rodney had been a resident of Indianapolis for nine years. He was a sophomore at Crispus Attucks high school, where he was studying cooking and foods because his ambition was to become a chef.

Rodney spent his spare time in woodworking and making model airplanes. Despite his handicap, Rodney always had a pleasant smile for everybody and was well liked by adults as well as the other children in his neighborhood.

He was a member of the Northside New Era Baptist Church and was treasurer of the youth usher board of the church.

Services were to be held Oct. 19 in Northside New Era Baptist Church, and burial was to be in Crown Hill, with Jacobs Brothers West Side Chapel in charge.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myles; four sisters, Anita, Doris Ann, Dianne and Deborah Nell Myles; three brothers, William, Keith Martin and Kenneth Myles, and two grandparents.

White Woman Charges Police Threatened Her

Jacque Durham, former member of the city police department and a central figure in many colorful conflicts with law enforcement officials, has produced affidavits or sworn statements inveighing that he is not guilty as charged by police following his arrest Oct. 12.

Two or more sworn statements exhibited recently in The Recorder news department by Durham included one signed by Phyllis J. Spaulding Combest, witnessed by Tony Combest and sworn to (under notary seal) before Joseph E. Shelton Oct. 22.

Durham, erstwhile operator of the Ebony Lounge in the 500 block of N. West, was charged with keeping a dive and house of ill-repute. In a fast-moving chain of events he was rearrested in less than four days on charges of pandering involving a young mother, Phyllis J. Spaulding Combest, reported to be an Indiana Girls' School parolee.

Eleven persons were arrested on vice charges when police invaded a second-floor apartment over the Ebony Lounge on Oct. 12. Police report a quantity of whiskey and ingredients for mixing drinks were confiscated.

Durham charged that the second-floor apartment is his residence, and he was entertaining visitors. DURHAM ADMITTED having a bar upstairs, but asserted many people have bars in their homes. He contended no one was at the bar at the time police invaded the second floor, and all guests were in his den watching television.

In the statement above the signature of Phyllis J. Spaulding Combest, notarized by Joseph E. Shelton, the deposition purportedly was made, or sworn to, at the Central State hospital.

Among other things the young mother (age 17) states as follows: "I am married to Tony Combest, at the time of my arrest I resided at 121 W. 12th St., Indianapolis, Ind."

"This is being made at my request, to my husband and the Notary Public."

"I have been in a highly nervous state since my shocking and disgraceful ordeal with the Indianapolis police. While no particular physical pressure was used on my body, the mental pressure on me constantly until I signed their statements was unbearable."

"I agreed to things which I knew were not true and which I knew were designed to set."

Youth, 19, Fails At Eluding Police

His attempt at eluding police aborted when his companions escaped from the stolen car in which they were riding, Ralph Barnett, 19, 1812 Yandes, was arrested Saturday and charged preliminarily with vehicle taking and robbery.

Police said they spotted the car, which had previously been broadcast as wanted in connection with a hold-up, at 15th and Alabama and chased it to 13th, where two youths jumped out and escaped through a yard. Two shots were fired at the fleeing men.

Barnett was apprehended and officers said he admitted stealing the car from 1614 Sheldon. A cap pistol was found on the front seat. The car had been reported stolen from the Sheldon address by Thomas Harris, 3319 N. Arsenal, the day before.

Barnett said the two men with him were a George Russell, 19, who lives "somewhere on the northwest side of town," and a man known to him only as "Willie."

Early this week, police were investigating the possibility that the same three youths were responsible for the robbery of Taxi Driver Robert Conway, 47, 3480 N. Shadeland, at 17th and College, and a young white couple parked on White River parkway, west drive, just south of 30th.

The couple, James Lynn, 21, 3154 N. Capitol, and Patricia McGuire, 1839 N. King, told police they were robbed of $3 by three young colored men Friday night.

POLICE examine the body of JULIA MAE ANDERSON, dead after shooting. SAMUEL LAY is being held in connection with the shooting.

Governor Among Crowds Honoring Rev. F. F. Young

Gov. and Mrs. Harold W. Handley and their daughter, Martha, were among several hundred of people from over the state attending the Golden Anniversary services and tribute to Elder F. F. Young last Sunday morning.

The widely-acclaimed pastor of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, which he has served longer than fifty years, was called an "exemplary leader and an inspiration to all youth every place" by Gov. Handley. Gov. Handley was introduced by State Sen. Robert L. Brokenburr.

The impressive church edifice at Udell and Annette was filled to capacity, the audience including church leaders and ministers of various denominations, many of whom spoke in praiseworthy terms of Elder Young. Rev. J. T. Highbaugh, pastor of Good Samaritan Baptist Church, delivered the sermon in which he paid a striking tribute to Rev. Young as a "fearless servant of God," his fellowmen and "one who has neither grown weary or tired in keeping the faith."

At the age of 84, Rev. F. F. Young, in answer to inquiries on how he felt after more than 50 years at the church stated, in his ever-cheerful manner, "If anybody in the world feels better than I feel at this time, he feels too good."

Rev. Young, among other gifts, was presented with a check for $100.00. Continued on Page 2

M. Zoercher, vice-president of the board of school commissioners.

Music was provided by the Attucks a cappella choir under the direction of Norman L. Merrifield, music department head, and the Treblebells directed by Lillian C. Brown, local music teacher.

Flowers were presented to Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Russell A. Lane. A reception was held in the cafeteria following the program.

M. R. Partlow and G. L. Cunningham, both of whom had known the victim until he was told by a woman known to him only by the name of "Betty." Her death was first believed to be caused by a gall-bladder ailment when examined by Dr. James Anderson, but the tiny ice-pick wound was discovered by an embalmer working on the body at King & King Funeral Home.

The second examination by Dr. L. A. Lewis confirmed that the woman died of internal bleeding from result of wound.

Neighbors supported Nicholas' story about his wife's bullying him, stating that several times in the past she had hit him and once knocked him out with a hammer. A comparatively small man, he had never before defied Mrs. Thurman until that fateful night.

BERT FRANKLIN

Services for Bert B. Franklin, 72, 864 Burdall, were held Oct. 16th in First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis. Burial was in Crown Hill.

A resident here 54 years, Mr. Franklin died Oct. 12 in General hospital. He was a native of Monroe County, Ky. Mr. Franklin had been employed as a storekeeper by the Indianapolis Transit System, Inc., for 52 years.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Lillian Franklin; a son, Mark E. Franklin, Indianapolis; a sister, Mrs. Maggie Brown, Glasgow, Ky.; and three brothers, Milton and Henry Franklin, both of Indianapolis, James T. Franklin, Glasgow.

Patton Funeral Home conducted the services.

READYING FOR UN TRIP: Selected by Attucks seniors and faculty to represent the school on the annual United Nations Assembly tour for high school students Oct. 24-27, Kay Stadler is caught by Recorder Photographer Jim Burres readying for the trip. An honor roll student, Kay was editor of the Attucks News last year and attended the Indiana High School Journalism Institute at Indiana University. The group of nine local students left Wednesday, under the direction of Willard J. Gambold of the public school office and chaperoned by Mrs. Blanche Ferguson, Attucks English teacher.

AT IAC HELM: Smiling with pride over the accomplishments of Crispus Attucks' Industrial Arts club are Treasurer Kenneth Barnett, President James Williams and Sponsor Robert Williams. The club was to be presented with a plaque and $25 award "for outstanding community service" Thursday afternoon during the annual convention of the Indiana State Teachers Association at North Central high school through Parents' magazine's youth group achievement award committee. Other officers for the year are Melvyn Jean Davis, vice-president; Patricia Williams, secretary; Anita Ricketts, assistant secretary; Yvonne Densmore, reporter, and Fred Davis, chaplain. Sponsors besides Mr. Williams are George Roddy and James Powell.

Church members and members of the various missionary societies are being asked to serve as volunteer workers for the Indianapolis Red Cross.

Instructors are needed in handicrafts, manual arts and photography. The call is in connection with the new rehabilitation programs to be instituted at the Cold Spring Road Veterans' hospital and the Marion County Home for the Aged at Julietta.

All interested persons are asked to call the American Red Cross for enrollment in a special instructors class.

Correction On Masonic Story

The Recorder regrets errors in a report of a Masonic meeting in the Oct. 19 issue.

Grand Master W. W. Waldon presided at the meeting.

William Howard Weaver is deputy grand master of the order. Andrew W. Ramsey is senior grand warden.

... AND SUDDEN DEATH: This twisted mass of metal, a few minutes before the picture was taken, was the auto of Charles L. Black, 31, 327 W. 28th. Black was killed Saturday, police say, when his car swerved into the path of a truck near Fortville on Ind. 67. Lavers Phelps, 28, 703 Edgemont, a passenger in the car, suffered minor injuries. A witness reported having seen the death car weaving in the road shortly before the collision. The truck driver, Orville Chappell, 42, Indianapolis, was not held. (Recorder Photo by Jim Burres).

Jacque Durham

erely injure the only person to help me and Tony get started on a new life, in which we could regain custody of our baby boy.

"This person is Jacque Durham, who owned the building where my husband was able to get work. He (Mr. Durham) gave us encouragement about the future and said that he would help us any way he could. We never expected this from a colored man. His color does not matter to me and Tony. But it seems to matter to a great deal to the police who constantly refer to him in the vilest terms.

"My record of being paroled from Girls' School and subsequent jobs on magazine crews, girlie shows, and cafes is unimportant. But I lived for Tony to be paroled so we could go on with the plans we made over a year ago, when we ran away to Tennessee to be married, but were picked up by the FBI, before we could get married.

"I HAD TONY'S BABY in the meantime and to pull my family together was the most important thing in the world to me. My baby it not, and has not been with us, but in charge of the Public Welfare. "Tony and I were married Oct. 9, 1957, in Terre Haute, Ind. Mr. Durham loaned us a small amount of money to assist us, and told Tony that he could soon have a job at the Ebony Lounge as a bartender, if Tony could get a license. Then we started trying to get our baby boy with Mr. Durham's help. We left happy and returned to Indianapolis on the evening of Oct. 11, 1957.

"We called Mr. Durham on this date and he said if we come over he would throw a little party for us. We arrived almost at closing time, and he told us that we would have the party upstairs in his apartment. This was the first and only time that I was ever upstairs at this address. Although I have waited for Tony while he and Mr. Durham went upstairs to his office on paydays, etc.

"We were all looking at TV in a bedroom when the police came in and placed us all under arrest, despite Mr. Durham's demand for a warrant and despite the fact that we were doing nothing wrong.

"My husband and I were told by the police that if we would say that Mr. Durham had sold us as much as a bottle of beer we could go free and come in as state witnesses, because he had been trying to get the 'black son of a b. h' for some time. When we didn't go along with this and told him that nobody had been drinking, we were treated roughly, and called names by a policeman named ... who had earlier threatened to shoot Mr. Durham. Nobody had been drinking.

"AFTER OUR RELEASE on bond, me and Tony were again picked up. The police knew of my desire to unite my family. They propositioned me and Tony. They threatened us with police action in the loss of my baby, and in seeing that I serve the full four years in the Girls' School as a parole violator. They said if we would help them 'get' Mr. Durham, who they said they had been trying to get for a long time, they would help us in every way.

"They said that they would let me 'hustle' in any hotel as a friend of the police and that I would not be molested. I told them I did not 'hustle' although I knew what the term 'hustle' meant. They said that I was lying and practically called me a prostitute.

"Then they said that they would help get Tony a job, return our baby and I could come home in no more than 60 days. We agreed to help the police 'get' Durham. They let Tony go and kept me, telling me what to say over and over again. They told me to say that I was a prostitute for Mr. Durham. They threatened and offered rewards at the same time.

"I did not believe this sort of thing could happen to me in America. They made me brand myself to get even with Mr. Durham. I signed whatever they put in front of me. I did not want to do so, but I was afraid not to; and was sick and tired of the constant coaching on what I was to say.

"I am not and have not been a prostitute for Mr. Durham or anybody else. I might not have been what you might call a good girl, but I have not done the things that they had me sign ... ; however I suppose they put into the statements what they wanted to because I have not read, or had read any statement that I can remember. I just signed blindly whenever they put a piece of paper in front of me. I don't know if there was anything on them or not.

"I do not wish to be used as a tool as they liquidate Mr. Durham; ruin his business; and place him in prison. I will deny now and forever any statement attributed to me.

"I KNOW THAT in doing this I may be losing everything that I hold dear, but what sort of mother would my child think I was when he found out how I got him? I thought that I would do anything to get him back with Tony and me; but I will not do anything. Instead of trying to please the police by going along with a vicious frame, we are going to please the Welfare and Parole people by becoming useful and we can't do it starting off with a lie.

"I will depend upon God to unite my family. I can not buy happiness at the expense of some one who helped us. It's for us to have our little baby, God will see that we get him. If not, then, I have told the truth and I will take the consequence. (Signed)

Phyllis J. Spaulding Combest"

Two Deaths

nction with the shooting. According to witnesses, Lay demanded that Mrs. Andrews pay him the 75c he said she owed. A heated argument grew out of the dispute in the back yard of his home, 732 W. Walnut.

Police, answering a "woman shot" call, on their arrival at the Walnut street address saw Mrs. Andrews lying in the junk-strewn back yard, but were prevented at gunpoint from administering first aid, they said.

The officers, Alfred Finnell and James McElroy of Car 27, spotted Lay in the back room of his home and ordered him out of the house. According to the police report, Lay refused to come out but, instead, grabbed a gun off the floor.

With Lay armed and between them and the victim, the lawmen were unable to reach the dying woman.

Only after they fired a warning shot into the air did the barricaded Lay surrender. But, by then, the trash-littered yard, with its broken bottles, unkempt grass, tattered paper and dilapidated easy-chair, had become a blood-stained deathbed for the woman they had sought to aid.

The 38 slug which entered her left chest apparently had brought a sudden end to her earthly days, and Mrs. Andrews was pronounced dead on arrival at General hospital.

Lay, disarmed and his confict of the fatal shooting:

"Me and Julia was fighting in the back yard," he confessed, according to the police report, "and when she reached her hand in her bosom, I didn't know what she was going after. So I pulled my gun and shot her."

A neighbor told a different story. Mrs. Greta Cockrell, 29, 727 Hadley, said Mrs. Andrews was in the yard at 734 W. Walnut and Lay was in his own back doorway, the police report said.

The two argued over the 75c.

which Mrs. Andrews insisted she did not owe. Mrs. Cockrell said she heard a shot and saw the woman slump to the ground.

Before the Saturday arrest, Lay's police record had been comparatively clean. His only previous arrest had been in February, 1942, when he was convicted for violation of the 1935 Beverage Act.

Born in Smith County, Tenn., Mrs. Andrews had lived here 32 years. The only immediate survivor is her mother, Mrs. Mary Wyatt, Indianapolis.

Funeral services for Mrs. Andrews were held Wednesday in Stuart Mortuary, with burial in Floral Park.

Found dead in the basement of Lexington apartments, where she apparently had spent the night, the Adams woman's body was still warm when the Marion County Coroner Investigator Glenn Gillespie examined the body just after noon Tuesday.

An autopsy revealed a "large quantity of alcohol" in the dead woman's blood stream and, although her death was attributed to "natural causes," it was believed the alcohol was a contributing factor.

When her body was discovered Tuesday morning, one shoe was missing and the condition of her legs gave rise to speculation that she might have been dragged to the place where she was found. Her shabby dress was up around her waist.

Busy mother of four healthy, growing boys ...
Mrs. Harry L. Hudson of Atlanta says:

"WE USE PET MILK SO MANY WAYS EVERY DAY"

Pretty Edith Hudson is the center of an active, happy family—her successful husband, a graduate of Morehouse College; and four husky boys. Her favorite part of the day is when they all come hurrying home—Harry from his job as assembly supervisor at Lockheed Aircraft Corporation and the three older boys from school. She loves cooking for them and, like so many good cooks, always uses PET Evaporated Milk to make her meals extra rich, extra nourishing and extra delicious. It's no wonder every member of her family is a picture of good health. The Hudsons love entertaining at home, often with barbecues and song fests in their large back yard. Talented Harry accompanies the singing with his steel guitar, and even little Albert tries to join in as family and friends have their happiest times just being together.

Get your child a copy of "Four Famous Little Girls," a story and coloring book about the well-known Fultz Quadruplets. Just send a label from a tall can of PET Evaporated Milk with your name and address to Pet Milk Company, 1460-B Arcade Bldg., St. Louis 1, Mo.

Take a tip from Mrs. Hudson...always buy
PET, the handiest milk you can get
PET EVAPORATED MILK
for cooking...for coffee...and for babies

"We're a real PET MILK family—from breakfast time to bedtime. We use it in coffee and cocoa, on cereal and fruit, for whipped toppings and homemade ice cream—well, in just more ways than I can name. All four of my boys—Michael, 7, Ronald, 5, Albert, 18 months, and Harry, Jr., 10—were PET Milk babies, and you can be sure the new baby we're expecting in December will get the same healthy start!"

"The boys love to romp with their father in the evening, and he enjoys it as much as they do. Harry, Jr., quite often has homework or studying to do, but the other three would wrestle and laugh all night if I didn't shoo them off to bed."

Social Scene

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

Local people got a real taste of "internationalism" last Sunday afternoon, as the Indianapolis Council of Negro Women sponsored a "UN Panorama" and the Book Lovers club chose "Outside the US" as theme of its guest day. Both affairs combined admirably an educational hour with pleasant socializing, and the imagination used to provide the setting for each proves that Indianapolis people can keep up with the best of them.

In the Book Lovers' program Mrs. Roy D. Clithorne acted as moderator for a panel of travelers who gave highlights of their visits to various foreign countries. Mrs. Louis Maxey compared living in Switzerland and Mexico; Mrs. Albert Spurlock gave an interesting talk on Haitian life; Mrs. Harry Hawkins talked about the people of Cuba and especially entertainment features for tourists, contrasting the native life with the activities of tourists; Mrs. Henry McCall told of her trip to Hawaii, where she was shown a side she might not have seen, thanks to the experience of a fellow traveler, and Mrs. Clithorne gave a few points on visiting in Paris.

All the speakers had, of course, visited the places about which they spoke.

Mrs. David Reynolds greeted the guests and introduced all members, while Mrs. Leon Davaul opened the program with a medley of airs of the countries mentioned in the discussion and closed the formal part of the program with "Back Home Again in Indiana."

Setting an effective background for the program were the well-thought-out wall decorations in the all-purpose room. Arranged with large posters of various countries were materials and articles of interest made in the countries, such as a mantilla from Spain, straw bag from Haiti, many pieces of hand-woven material, etc.

Especially handsome, I thought, was a very beautiful cut copper tray (or screen) from India lent by Miss Rose Ella King.

The approximately 150 guests attending were put in a far-away places mood upon entering by being presented with roses by little Miss Janet Hicks. Dressed as a little French peasant, she stood at the "flower mart," pictured near the door.

In addition to the gorgeous floral display arranged by the club, Mrs. John W. Walls of Louisville, a former member and sister of Mrs. Cecil R. Powell, member, sent flowers.

Mesdames Reynolds, W. L. G. King, J. P. Q. Wallace and Henry L. Hummons poured during the special hour at a table beautifully covered with yellow linen and centered with an arrangement of vari-colored fall flowers.

Members: Mesdames David Reynolds, president; J. P. Q. Wallace, vice-president; Henry Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Guy L. Grant, assistant; J. Lorenzo Simpson, chairman, and B. S. Gordon, H. L. Hummons, J. Wesley Hall and Russell A. Lane, program committee; Cecil R. Powell, Robert L. Brokenburr, Roy D. Clithorne, W. L. G. King and John Norrel, entertainment; Charles Ashbury, Walter Maddux and Clarence Hicks, cheer, and Lionel F. Artis and Miss Mary Alice Wells, publicity.

In addition to the local members, the club lists as honorary members Mesdames W. Tifford Davis, Washington, D. C.; David Lane and John H. Walls, Louisville; Radford Morris and John Roxborough, Detroit, and William North, Chicago.

Deceased members are Mesdames Walter M. Price, Arthur Dodson, Grant Clay, Anna Pritchett, William R. Hill, Guy Corley, Herbert Willis, Walker Cornett and George L. Hayes.

A special feature of the "UN Panorama" program I admired was the setting up of conversation groups on various countries, arranged under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lavinia Toles.

Conversation leaders and their people included Gino Baumann, Switzerland; Mrs. Eunice Baumann, American Indian; Dean Rogers, Paraguay; Mrs. Masako Munakata, Japan; Miss Pauline Allen, Hawaii; Dr. and Mrs. Konstantin D. Kolitschew, Russia; Mrs. Jean Fournier, France; and Matthew Iton, Nigeria and Africa. Senator Robert L. Brokenburr, introduced by Mrs. Mary A. Johnson, a founder and president-emerita of the group, spoke on "The United Nations," Mr. Brokenburr, you remember, is former representative to the UN Council. Music from "around the world" was played by Mrs. Mary Wilson. As in the case with the Book Lovers, decorations were informal tables arranged in various spots of Jordan Hall at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA held displays of articles made in the countries discussed, and in one or two cases interesting educational items were shown. A fanciful globe centered the palm-decked stage, while a more conventional globe topped with flags of the UN countries centered the service table.

Mrs. Grace Bryant was general chairman of the affair, with Mrs. Margaret Webb as co-chairman, while other chairmen and their assistants were Mesdames Fannie Blackburn and Lilla Adams, program; Clara Boyd and Edith Ellis, patrons; Diocletian McClure and Gwendolyn Davis, decorations; Iva Dee Davis and Margaret Webb, finance; Kary Ellen Dunn and Jean Stephanie, refreshments, and Lora Belle Johnson and Jill Hopson, publicity.

Assisting Mrs. Toles as conversation group hostesses were Mesdames Nettie Scott King, Vernoca Ferguson, Clara Hill and Mary Alexander.

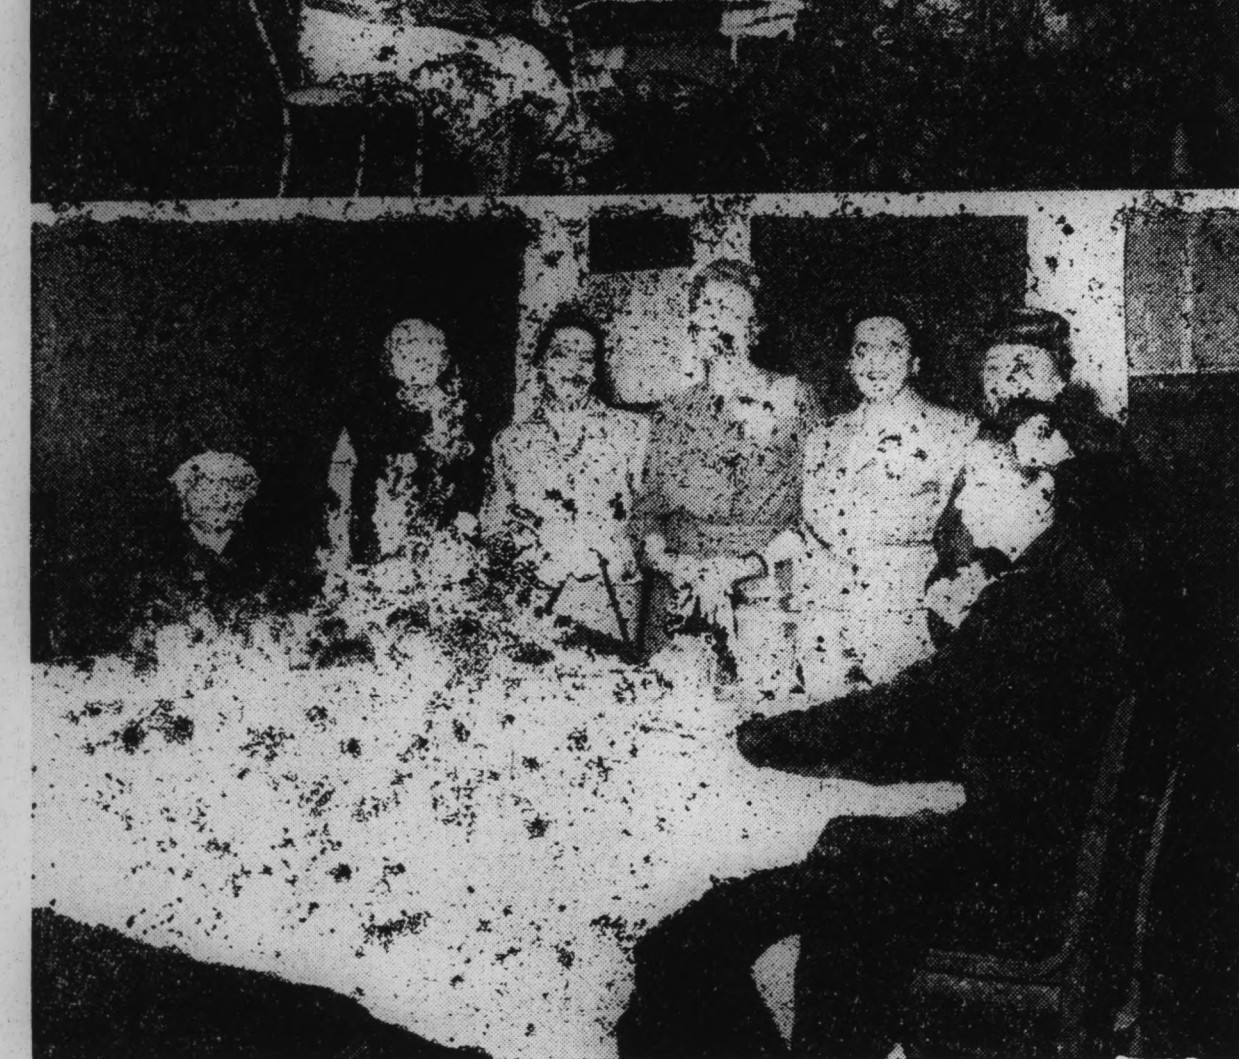

Mrs. Mattie G. Fanning, as president, heads the list of officers, which also include Mesdames Margaret Webb, first vice-president; Lavinia Toles, second vice-president; Lillian Goins, secretary; Virgie Davis, assistant secretary; Nannie Mathews, corresponding secretary; Zellie Peoples, treasurer; Iva Dee Davis, financial secretary; Flossie Weir, parliamentarian, and Mary A. Johnson, historian.

Mrs. King is listed as a life member.

Speaking of internationalism, the Cleo Blackburns bring an added touch, having been guests at the dinner Monday in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City honoring Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II of England, and His Royal Highness, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. The dinner was given by the Pilgrims of the USA and the English-Speaking Union of the USA.

Mentioning England's ruler reminds me of this nation's President, and that reminds me that, along with President Eisenhower's celebration of his 67th birthday, Harvey N. Middleton, Jr., celebrated his eighth birthday Monday, October 14, at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Middleton.

His many guests enjoyed games, while ice cream and cake were served. Many novelties were given and Dr. Middleton took moving pictures of the party. Joining wholeheartedly in the games were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodges.

Among children present were Tamara and Cheryl Hodges, Lele Bundles, Donald Williams, Grant and Stewart Hawkins, Daryl Mason, Shirley and Lee Martin, Lou Maxey, Rock Pettie and Jacqueline and Lawrence Miller.

The Misses Catherine and Thelma assisted with the children, along with Mesdames Mary Goodnight, Marguerite O'Neil, Ula Jacobs, Grant Hawkins and Henry Bundles and Miss Edna Middleton.

BOOK LOVERS HAVE "GUEST DAY": Members of the Book Lovers club may be primarily in love with books, but they like people, too. That's one of the reasons the club's "Guest Day" held Sunday afternoon at Flanner House was such a success. Members gathered in the lobby are Mesdames Lionel F. Artis, Robert L. Brokenburr, Roy D. Clithorne (seated), Henry Wilson, Guy L. Grant, Cecil R. Powell, J. Lorenzo Simpson and John R. Norrel, while around the service table are Mesdames W. L. G. King (seated), J. P. Q. Wallace, Clarence Hicks and H. L. Hummons, Miss Mary Alice Wells, and Mesdames Russell A. Lane and David Reynolds (seated). (Recorder Photo by Bill Raspberry.)

UN TIME IN INDIANAPOLIS: It was UN time in Indianapolis last Sunday afternoon as the Indianapolis Council of the National Council of Negro Women presented a "United Nations Panorama." Pictured at the affair were (first picture) Dean Rogers, who answered questions on Paraguay; Miss Pauline Allen, Hawaii; Senator Robert L. Brokenburr, speaker; Dr. Eunice Baumann, American Indian; Mrs. Grace Bryant, general chairman, and Mrs. Masako Munakata, Japan, while waiting to be served by Mrs.

TRAVEL GROUP MEMBERS ENJOY SUNDAY OUTING

Members of the Travel Group spent Sunday at Clifty Falls and Madison, enjoying not only the beautiful autumn scenery, but also the breath-taking views of the Ohio River.

A visit to the famed Lanier mansion, a symbol of gracious living of by-gone days, was one of the highlights of the trip.

Hair Designers Board Meets Here

The executive board of the Indiana Hair Designers Institute met at the home of the director, Flinn H. Moses, last Saturday and made plans for the fall season. An interesting program was outlined, and all members were urged to attend the November meeting in order to implement it.

Officers of the board are Mesdames Margaret Smith, president; Geneva Johnson, recording secretary; Mary Oats, financial secretary; Elizabeth Williams, treasurer, and Annice Ross, reporter.

YWCA Membership Drives Ends on Successful Note with 1500 Listed

Surpassing a membership drive goal by 50 percent does not happen every day. That's why workers in the 1957 membership drive of the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA were especially proud at their "victory dinner" Tuesday evening of last week. The 1000-member goal set for the three-week drive was reached on October 1, and at last week's meeting 1500 members were reported.

The drive was conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Myrtle S. Hummons, general chairman, and Mrs. Willa Owsley, co-chairman, and took the form of a contest between teams headed by various captains and co-captains.

These leaders included Mesdames Vernon Adams, Lillian Stearns, Frank Slater, Richard Pruitt, Herbert Higgins, C. Wallace, Mae Simmons, Harold Atkins, James Patton, Selge Bates, Kareyellen Dunn, Junius Lasley, Bernard Brent, Katherine Dabner, James Saunders, Hermener Boyd, Homer Wales and DeWitte Jones.

Also Mesdames Howard Lytle, Ethel LeShae, James Williams, John Woolridge, Margaret Shackelford, Lois P. Brown, F. B. Ransom, Clarence Simms, Kelly Perkins, Fred Augusta, Amelia Woolfork, Mary P. McGuire Connell, William Taylor and Essie Ray.

Other workers were Mesdames Ethel Ray Cox, Rose Thompson, Hardy Stoner, Helen Johnson, Theonia Candler, Gladys Minor, Philip Harrington, Thomas Hibbitt, Flora Clark, Willis Prince Jones, Willie Edmondson, Daisy H.

McKissack-Stuart Rites Expected To Provide Social Season Highlight

Expected to provide a highlight of the current social season is the coming marriage of Miss Natalie Annette Stuart and Moses McKissack, IV. The ceremony, to take place Saturday afternoon, November 9, at 4 in the Stuart Chapel, will be followed by a large reception in the Gold Room of the Antlers hotel.

Announcement of the approaching marriage was made this week by the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. William Weir Stuart, 2544 Boulevard place.

Honor attendant at the candle-light ceremony will be the bride's sister, Mrs. Mercer Montgomery Mance, while the bride's niece and namesake, Miss Natalie Jane Bruce, will serve as junior bridesmaid. Calvin L. McKissack of Nashville, uncle of the groom, will be best man.

Miss Stuart, a popular member of the city's younger social set, is a graduate of Howard University, Washington, D. C., and has done graduate study at Butler University.

She is an active member of Chi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority and is a teacher at School No. 40.

Mr. McKissack, a graduate of Fisk University and Howard University, is following the long line of builders in his family in the field of architecture.

He is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

TO BE NOVEMBER BRIDE: Dr. and Mrs. William Weir Stuart have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Natalie Annette, to Moses McKissack IV, which will be solemnized Saturday, November 9, at 4:30 in the Stuart Chapel.

Eastside Club Lists Officers

The Eastside Pleasure club met at the home of Willie Walker last week and named as officers for the year Vennie Bridwell, president; Alec Neal, vice-president; Clarence Middlebrook, financial secretary; Louis P. Hughes, recording secretary; Hobart McKinley, treasurer; Willie Walker, critic; Jesse Goodwin, business manager, and George Snow, chaplain.

All correspondence should be addressed to the club in care of Louis P. Hughes, 164-A West 9th street.

Next meeting will be with the president.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Beckwith, 1317 Eugene street, are parents of a baby boy born Sunday. At this writing he had not been named. The new baby is the great-nephew of Frank R. Beckwith, prominent attorney.

Chatting with the FAC

By ELSA JACKSON

Doors will open at 4 Sunday for the annual All-FAC Tea, featuring a most enjoyable program and fashion review. While fewer tables than usual will be vying for prizes, they will be judged on beauty alone this year, promising an interesting contest. The new system of judging is expected to be more acceptable to the participants.

Mrs. Emma McKnight, general chairman, is expecting a record attendance. FAC pins will be presented to the workers.

The first report meeting of the membership drive committee will be held at 8 Monday night. John G. Powers, general chairman, says the two teams headed by Mesdames Emma McKnight and Marie Durham seem to be running neck-and-neck. Every member is trying to win the first prize, a transistor radio.

A number of other handsome and worthwhile gifts await runners-up. Winners will be chosen for bringing in the largest number of members and money over $100.

Persons interested in renewing or opening membership may call the office to have their money collected, and any person designated may receive credit for the individual member or group.

Mesdames Lillian Goins and Marie Overton will be in charge of refreshments Monday night.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors will also be held Monday night at 8. Directors are being urged to register 100 percent attendance.

The New World Players, recently affiliated with the FAC, are holding rehearsals for their forthcoming production on Sundays in the auditorium.

Corinthian Women Plan Anniversary

The Ladies' Alliance of Corinthian Baptist Church will celebrate its 43rd anniversary next Wednesday night at 8 in the home of Mrs. Birdie Jasper, 544 West Maple road.

Miss Willa Thomas, Recorder church columnist, will be guest speaker and show slides on the old Land.

The group was organized in 1914 by the late Mrs. Julia Reed. It has been active in helping the church and those in need.

Mrs. Willora Morris is president, and Mrs. Bessie James is program chairman.

The Progressive Community club will meet in the club home Friday for an important business session.

The annual children's Halloween party sponsored by the Progressive Mothers club will be held in the club home next Thursday from 5:30 to 7:30.

The FAC executive committee is completing plans for a drive to get every eligible voter properly registered. A panel discussion on "How to Be Elected into an Office" will be held in the club home in the near future.

The activities committee met Monday night, and the chairman, Mrs. Ethel Ryan, says the group is working on details of plans for its next affair.

Plans have been completed by the Gay Caballeros club for its annual barn dance. Ticket sales were so large the club had to secure a larger building. Tickets printed for the RCA Hall will be honored at the Southside Armory, 2015 South Meridian street. Mose Smith, club president, and the other officers and members, promise a lovely time.

Ballots for the coming annual election of FAC officers are being mailed out for members' careful study.

Starling W. James, FAC president, is especially eager that the 20th anniversary month set a record in attendance on every occasion.

Twelve-Mo club officers elected recently are Frederick Douglass, president; Robert Trice, vice-president; Carl Williams, treasurer; Ravenell Fields, financial secretary; Oscar Thomas, recording secretary; Hervey Gamble, sergeant-at-arms, and Edward L. Patterson, parliamentary and chairman of the sick committee.

Mrs. Clara Hawkins, FAC Home caretaker, is quite ill at this writing.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

"Thanks for everything, and I do hope and pray that the flu bug which had you is gone." These remarks came in a message from Mrs. Evelyn Fleming, church paper editor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, who came to see the Ole Scribe while she was laid up. Other friends calling every day during the two weeks' illness were Mrs. Annie Mae Horton, treasurer of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, William Bailey and Mrs. Lillie Rosdell.

As the old saying goes, there is no friend like an old friend. The sight of David M. Walker was a big lift when he walked into the shop Saturday, October 12, after a spell with the flu. Despite his recuperating, he sat down at the desk and worked until 2 a. m. Sunday, taking with him deliveries for Sunday and leaving other jobs to be sent out by cabs through the hubby, Howard Connell.

One of the most attractive affairs I had planned to attend before taking ill was the 20th anniversary dinner honoring Stirling W. James of the Federation of Associated Clubs. Well, my $3 dinner tickets are still on the desk. From all reports, the general public responded beautifully.

Mr. and Mrs. James deserve much credit. Many times we are unaware of the chances people take to help move us up. Atty. Henry J. Richardson once said, "I have fought for hotels, theaters, etc., to be opened to us, and yet since the doors have been opened, I have never had time to be inside one."

Mr. James has used much of the time when he needed rest down at City Hall trying to pave the way for others. He has been in many an employment office trying to make jobs for some of our boys and girls. I know because I was there.

Thanks to people like the FAC members who will take time out to give flowers to the living.

An appreciation service was given last Sunday in honor of Mrs. Ollie Mae Douglass, another old old friend of the Scribe. Members of various departments of St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church took time out to say "thank you" and shower her with gifts, tokens and words of appreciation. She has long been organist and director at the church.

Mrs. Ada Hughes was listed among the many participants, along with Mrs. Nancy Johnson, a very active young church worker.

Rev. A. Mansfield Hughes is pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church.

Among coming events is the annual program of the New Hope Baptist Church senior choir, set for Sunday from 4 to 7 at the home of the Indiana State Federation of Colored Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Louise Anna Crook, assisting on the committee, says this will be one of the season's best programs. Rev. J. C. Butler is pastor.

Many of you are no doubt wondering about my own church, New Bethel Baptist. Under the leadership of Dr. F. Benjamin Davis, we are making rapid progress "up from the ashes."

Under the well-planned reconstruction program no one can say he hasn't been given a chance to put his name in the pot; we have windows, pews, communion tables, pulpit chairs, chapel pulpit, etc., to be furnished.

Another person given flowers recently was Miss Dorothy Harris, 1956 Columbia avenue, who was surprised by a group of friends on her birthday, October 17, with loads of gifts, fruits and a big purse presented by the Eight Wonders. Oh yes, and plenty of wearing apparel. What? Now, you guess (smiles).

Another event missed was the grand recital of the Overton-Jennings students, given at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA on Sunday afternoon, October 13, under auspices of the POCO POCO Mothers club.

Mrs. Idella Overton and Mary Jennings, sisters, are known artists throughout the city. They have made a great mark since their days of youth.

Also missed during the illness was the annual "Oriental Tea" given by the Persian Court No. 24, Daughters of Isis, at Flanner House on October 13. Mrs. Minnie Snow made a very charming master of ceremonies.

Also listed to appear were Mesdames Berry Garrett, Beatrice Bridwell, Eva Goodwin, Iva Moore, Susie Goodwin and E. Ridley, the Indiana Travelers, Kingan Club, OES chorus, Good Samaritan male chorus and the Rosito quintet.

Mrs. Nellie Porter, illustrious commandress, was ably assisted by the co-chairman, Mrs. Louvenia Snow.

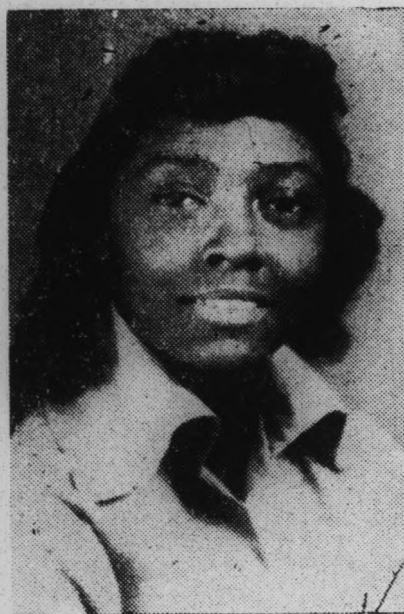

Members of the Union Baptist Jubilee chorus of Union Baptist Church celebrated the 21st anniversary of the group October 17-20. Speakers included Rev. A. Batts and T. T. Ward, while a grand musical was presented Sunday afternoon.

Henry Higgins is president, and Rev. Otis Nance is pastor.

Hundreds of young people are expected at Eastside Baptist Church at 3:30 Sunday afternoon for the Central District Baptist Youth Fellowship meeting. Young people and adults are especially invited.

Rev. Andrew Williams is pastor. Recently, before the flu bug got the Ole Scribe, she was called to 3332 North Downing street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Davis, to organize a civic group. We (Mrs. Beatrice Holfield, vice-president of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, helped out) were met by a representative, enthusiastic group to be organized.

We organized them under the name of the Northeast Civic League, and

TO BE BRIDE: Miss Joanne Marie Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, 3921 North Capitol avenue, will become the bride of Phillip Everett Brown, son of Mrs. Luell Brown, 3341 Asbury street, on November 9. Miss Phillips is a graduate of Arsenal Technical high school and attended John Herron Art Institute and Indiana University. Mr. Brown, a graduate of Southport high school, is now serving his apprenticeship with the Scott Electric Company. The wedding will take place at 7 in Christ Temple.

named as officers were Mesdames Elizabeth Ray, president; Zora Tyler Wilson, vice-president; Mary Lee, recording secretary; Almon Carmichael, assistant secretary; Rose Rice, corresponding secretary, and Vera Conn, financial secretary; William Myers, treasurer, and Major West, historian.

The club will meet on each second and fourth Tuesday. This week's meeting was held at 5311 East 34th street.

The club was organized October 8 at the request of Mrs. Wilson, a member of New Bethel Baptist Church, who lives in the 3300 block of North Downing street.

Death has struck heavy on the Eastside. O. C. Carson, who formerly lived in the 1500 block of North Arsenal avenue, died last week. The husband of Mrs. Viola Carson, he died in the Veterans' Hospital. Mrs. Carson is another of those schoolyard chums of the Scribe.

Another very dear friend, Mrs. Minnie Smith, 2422 Parker avenue, died Monday night. According to reports, funeral services will be held Saturday at the King and King Funeral Home.

Mrs. Smith, sister of Mrs. Jessie Carey, at one time lived with the late Rev. and Mrs. George Baltimore.

Mrs. Cecelia Walton, 2700 McPherson street, was saddened by the loss of a granddaughter. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at the Rescue Mission, 525 Indiana avenue, with Rev. Grover C. Mills officiating.

Noted Home Economist Listed as Commentator for "Best of Seven"

Louise R. Prothro, nationally known columnist and home economist for the Pet Milk Company, St. Louis, will be commentator for this year's presentation of the "Best of Seven" Revue by Psi Theta chapter of Alpha Chi Pi Omega sorority Friday night, November 1, at the Indiana Roof, it was learned this week.

One of the country's best-known and best-liked home economists, Mrs. Prothro still thinks of her career as a dream come true, although she has been in the food field several years.

She began her training toward realization of her dream when she entered Framingham State Teachers College in Massachusetts to earn her home economics degree. Later she earned a master's degree in foods and nutrition at Columbia University's Teachers' College, New York City.

Before joining the Pet Milk Company staff, she was instructor of home economics at Florida A. and M. University, dietitian at the State Reformatory for Women in Massachusetts, community organization secretary with the New Jersey Urban League and program director of the USO-YWCA in Durham, N. C.

Her present position includes a wide variety of activities. She is food demonstrator at annual newspaper-sponsored Home Service Fairs held in cities all over the nation, and is often guest lecturer for home economics students in colleges. She is also much in demand as guest speaker at food and nutrition clinics held by health and welfare departments, acts as judge in food shows and makes frequent guest appearances on television shows.

She finds particularly interesting her participation in Pet Milk's advertising. National magazines often carry her picture and food hints in Pet Milk advertisements.

and her voice goes out to thousands of people in special radio commercials.

Besides her full-time food career, Mrs. Prothro ably handles another full-time job, rearing her own 11-year-old daughter, Joanne. Right now Joanne is vitally interested in ballet dancing and ceramics, but her mother says that she, too, is beginning to show real interest in preparing delicious meals.

Joining Mrs. Prothro as co-commentator for the "Best of Seven" show will be Mrs. Edythe Walker, well-known local social leader. Guest artist for the evening will be internationally-known Sara Lou in ballet dancing and ceramics, provided by the spotlight local Henry D. Cain combo.

Musical Marks Seven Years Of Activities For Popular NGBs

Members and friends of the popular NGB club enjoyed a musical afternoon Sunday, October 13, at the home of the Federation of Associated Clubs, Inc., in recognition of the club's seven years of existence. The members were uniform in white and blue princess-styled taffeta print dresses with contrasting corsages of blue and white carnations.

While the members looked very stately, the refreshment table was equally attractive with the cake forming the centerpiece inscribed "Seventh Anniversary of the NGB Club" on each side of the cake was a tapering candle, and surrounding it were dainty cookies, peanuts and candies.

Among the talented participants were the little Misses Lillie M. Barnett and Regina Johnson, Miss Wilma Batie and Messrs. Everett Green, Curtis Jackson and Ralph Harris, student at Butler University.

Special guests were Choraleers, group of men and women from the Capitol Avenue Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Miss Luvenia Boatright was master of ceremonies, and serving as guest pianist was Miss Ruth Winters.

Members of the young women's club are Mesdames Marlene Dinwiddie, Betty Harris, Roberta Hutchinson, Shirley Posley, Ada Robinson and Rosemary Stanley and the Misses Luvenia Boatright, Louise Collins, Elmira Lawson, Helen Madden, Sophie Moore, Pearl Robinson, Gail Tanner and Agnes Garrett.

Announcing their first program since last season's successful presser son, Rev. Charles E. Ward, pastor of Cedar Grove Missionary Baptist Church, Paris, Tenn.

Mrs. McGee accompanied Elder and Mrs. George Watson to Cleveland, where they were guests of Elder and Mrs. Charles Roney. Elder Roney is pastor of New Salem Primitive Baptist Church there.

Elder Watson is pastor of the local New Hope Primitive Baptist Church.

The two serious dramas will highlight a program to be given Sunday night, November 17, at 7:30 at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA.

Also included will be a dramatic reading and a musical rendition.

Women's Federated Clubs

By RACHEL OVERBY

Plans for the annual "Woman's Day" program will be on the agenda at the next meeting of the City Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, the Elizabeth Carter Council, set for Tuesday, November 5, at 3:30 in the state club home. Mrs. Clara Phillips, president, urges all members to be present.

The Woman's Council met last Monday in the club home. Mrs. Essie Ray is president.

The Silver Thread club's annual tea, held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Wilson, 2326 Wheeler street, last Sunday, was a grand success. Mrs. Mildred Strickland, 921 East 23rd street, will be hostess to the club Monday. Mrs. Nellie Madden is president.

The Parliamentary Study club met Tuesday night at 8 in the state club home. Mrs. Josephine Woods is president.

So many mothers advise—
SWEETEN THE STOMACH TO SWEETEN THE CHILD!

Special children's laxative also sweetens upset stomach! Does both overnight . . . so gentle, never interrupts sleep or play!

How often an upset tummy causes those tantrums! When constipation sours little stomachs, youngsters act up because they feel miserable, can't eat or sleep right. That's the time to give Syrup of Black-Draught for amazing two-way relief! (1) This special children's laxative gently relieves constipation overnight! (2) Helps sweeten sour stomach at the same time. Then digestion and disposition both improve in a hurry! Children Love Its Taste! Syrup of Black-Draught tastes honey-sweet so children take it without complaint. Made of Nature's own pure vegetable herbs acts thoroughly but gently. Given at bedtime its remarkable formula is specially "timed" to work first thing in the morning—without harsh griping, without interrupting sleep or play. Yes, Syrup of Black-Draught brings comforting relief of constipation overnight. Helps sweeten upset stomach, too. Children sleep away those constipation worries. Next day, laugh and play! Get wonderful Syrup of Black-Draught today. CAUTION: Try regular Black-Draught in Powder or Granulated form. Or get new, easy-to-take Tablets! Eat one every three hours.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 20 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

THE WONDER BAKERS have a sparkling new home in your community. And we want you to bundle the family into the car and run over for a visit.

Unlike your home . . . the living room of our house is the kitchen. That is, we do nothing but bake at this newest, most modern bakery in Indiana. And you should see the way we bake. Here is something as marvelous as the jet age we live in. Automatic mixers, ovens, slicers and wrappers are almost human in their cleverness. And for you, the customer, it means that Wonder Bread is now better than ever—you enjoy more uniform flavor, quality and freshness.

No proud housewife ever kept her home in better condition than this immaculate bakery. There's something here for the whole family to enjoy and remember—so plan to visit our new home and bring your friends.

Don't miss this opportunity. The visiting hours are

2:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M. on the following days: Monday, October 21 thru Friday, October 25 . . . and Sunday, October 27 thru Friday, November 1. One of our trained guides will be waiting to show you the miracles of Wonder Bread's new home in Indiana.

Chatter for the College Set

By BILL RASPBERRY

Either I was dead asleep all weekend or the town was unusually quiet. Or the whole state, for that matter! But that's how it goes. One week your big problem is deciding which of the many deals you'll condescend to grace with your presence, and the next you wonder when the town will be buried, since it's obviously quite dead.

I suppose it's my own fault for not going over to Muncie, like I'd planned, for Ball State's homecoming.

The big affair there was the dance out in town. But even that, my information goes, while very enjoyable indeed, did not come up to the party standards of the AKAs and Kappas who sponsored the deal. The hall was jam-packed, but many, many of the patrons were—pardon the expression—non-collegians.

Just kidding, of course. First thing you know, somebody'll be calling me a snob!

"The Coeds," Indianapolis cuties, sang during intermission, although I wonder how they sounded without Jean "The Personality" Cox. This is definitely not to take an ounce of credit from others of the group, Irena Stenson, Barbara Crowder, Luella Stenson and Marilyn Milton. But when a small group has grown used to singing together, one voice missing can make a difference.

Incidentally, you want to keep an eye on the group. If they keep working, I believe the kids are going places. I've heard them, and when they are right they're good! Might have to change their name, though. Seems there's another group already recording under the same moniker.

But to get back to Muncie, Walter Murrell and Don Ward gave a party at "Brown Stone." Those who attended tell me it was really nice.

I certainly wish my female acquaintances would stop raving over one Jesse Bumbers! It gets to be downright embarrassing, especially when they ask ME for his 'phone number. After all, I am quite charming, dashed witty and extremely handsome, not to mention my endearing modesty. Why is it none of the fair ones swoon when I come by? Is it because Jess bears something of a resemblance to Harry Belafonte?

Henry Taylor and Mary Ann Hobbs were among Indiana Central's upperclassmen honored for scholastic achievement in the college auditorium last week. Nice going, kids.

Rosie Cheatham trotted off to the University of Michigan for their weekend homecoming festivities. They had a couple of entertainers you might have heard of. The names are Errol Garner and Duke Ellington.

If Ruthie Collins walks sorta funny for a while, it's because she had to sleep all night in a chair when she spent the weekend at Ball State. Poor chair! Sorry, typographical error. I meant to say "Poor Ruthie!"

DEPARTMENT OF USELESS INFORMATION: Contrary to accepted opinion, kissing is just so much chemistry. It has to do with a craving for salt. The cave man found that salt helped cool him off in the summer heat. He found, too, that he could get salt by licking his neighbor's cheek. Also, that it was more interesting if the neighbor happened to be of the opposite sex. Then everybody forgot about salt.

Ernie Butler and Virgil Freeman are both enjoying brief vacations from service with "The Uncle." And neither is letting any grass grow under his feet, I'm told.

I conducted a simple experiment the other day which might be of interest to you pipe, cigarette and cigar smokers. Hold in your mouth a big puff of smoke, and after you have stretched a handkerchief firmly against your lips, blow the smoke through the handkerchief. The resulting brown spot will show something of the tars and stains taken into your lungs every time you take a smoke. The test results frightened me so much that I gave up handkerchiefs!

But enough trivia and nonsense for one week. How's about letting me know what happens of College Set interest between now and next time. Until then, so long!

Anderson Club Plans to Organize NACG Groups for Young Girls

BY MADELYNE IRVIN

Anderson—Plans for organizing local chapters of the National Association of Colored Girls were formulated last week's meeting of the Phyllis Wheatley club, held at the home of the president, Mrs. Rosa Carter.

Two NACG groups were to be organized by the first November meeting. Mesdames Verda Mae Cochran and Gerta Weatherly were appointed organizers of girls between the ages of five and 11, while Mesdames Madelyne Irvin and Hazel Minnifield were to organize girls from 12 to 16.

Welcomed as a new member was Mrs. Joyce Fogg, a graduate of Anderson College now living here after having taught school for a year in Kansas.

Mrs. Georgeanna King renewed her membership in the club. Mrs. Fogg was appointed chairman of music.

Mesdames Carter and Irvin reported the district convention of the Indiana State Federation of Colored women's clubs was a wonderful success, with large numbers of club women present from East Chicago, Gary and Indianapolis.

Reported on the sick list were Mesdames Thelma Mills, Sadie Cox, Mary Wooten and G. T. Green. Other members present were Mesdames Deloris Jack, Ollie Jean Weatherly, Mae Newsome, Nellie Page, Peggy Cickman, Sadie Davis, Mary Garner, Ida Montgomery, Mercile Raymore, Mollie Patterson, Hazel Minnifield and Grace Faulks.

MISS BETTY JENKINS, member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority on the campus of Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, was one of the three chosen for the 1957 homecoming.

The Women's Auxiliary of the William Hall Post No. 282, American Legion, met at the Westside Community Center last week, with 20 members present in the American Legion Room.

Plans were made for a "Patriotic Tea" to be given Sunday from 4 to 6 at the home of Mrs. Josie Carter, 1503 West 13th, honoring the Misses E. Young and Sally Page, chosen by the auxiliary to attend Girls State last June on the campus of Indiana University.

Rev. J. E. Reddick, pastor and members of Allen Chapel AME Church have completed their financial program for the year. In reorganizing several of the church auxiliaries, the pastor pointed out it has been a "banner year."

The parsonage has been renovated and remodeled. A larger basement has been finished, and a pretty picture window beautifies the building. All rooms have been redecorated.

THE WESLEYAN CLUB met recently in Second Methodist Church. Police Officer Robert H. Daubenspeck showed screen views of a trip to Mexico, and a transistor radio was presented to Jess Rogers of Indianapolis.

Next meeting will be Saturday night at 8 at the home of Mrs. J. C. Jack, 1304 Laurel.

Little Willazell Ervin, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Ervin Johnson, was among 14 grade school children in the "Starky" color book contest last week. She won one

Evansville Clubs Plan Christmas Charity Ball

EVANSVILLE—Twelve clubs of the city held a luncheon meeting last week at Carver Center to discuss plans for a "Charity Ball" to be held Dec. 28 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars chapter house.

In a setting of ivy, yellow and gold chrysanthemums and an attractive sign which said, "Thinking together is unity; Working together is success," the group laid plans for the first cooperative effort attempted by clubs working together in the city.

A council of clubs was formed, with each club appointing a representative.

The representatives met after the luncheon and elected as permanent officers Ray Lambert, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Moore, vice-chairman; Mrs. Sylvester Shelton, secretary; and Mrs. Clifton Love-lace, assistant secretary.

Committee members named were Mesdames Alfred Porter, Arnall Young and William Burks, Jr., finance, and George Flowers, Mesdames George Thomas, Robert Rogers and James Alderson and John Cable, program.

Junior Red Cross Council Formed At Grade School in Evansville

EVANSVILLE—A Junior American Red Cross Council was organized last week at the Chestnut-Walnut school by Miss Willie Effie Thomas, teacher, who served watermelon to the 18 members attending the organizational meeting.

Named officers were Portia Newell, president; John Miller, vice-president; Sonja Johnson, second vice-president; Shirley Ann Collier, recording secretary; Sandra Rhylene Washington, assistant; Cherry Gillis, corresponding secretary; Zreeta Masden, treasurer; Harriette Moss, parliamentarian; Gloria Gilbert, assistant, and Peggy Piper, reporter.

Other members are Sandra Johnson, Harold Redd, Tressie Landours, Cynthia Higgins, Susie McKnight, Margaret Edwards, Larry Cook and Eva Dunkerson.

Representing the school recently at the Junior Red Cross Chapter House were Shirley Ann Collier, John Miller and Portia Newell. They brought back very interesting reports.

Each member of the council helped in passing out enrollment material to each classroom and made pep talks to each teacher and her pupils.

The council is also planning a Junior Red Cross assembly program in the school auditorium Friday, Nov. 1, with the Misses Mary Margaret Moxley, Junior Red Cross director, and Louise Heim as speakers.

The Misses Thomas and Heim were speakers at the chapter house recently. Francis J. Check, local Red Cross director, presided.

DR. CHARLES E. ROCHELLE, principal of Lincoln high school, was invited to be one of the honored guests at the luncheon set by the Indiana State Teachers College Alumni Association in the Chateau Room of the Claypool hotel, Indianapolis, Thursday of this week.

Dr. Rochelle was to be honored for service rendered as secretary-treasurer of the general commission of the Indiana State Board of Education during the past 12 years. He is an alumnus of Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute.

Mrs. Rochelle, also an alumna of ISTC, was to accompany him there.

The Evansville Association of College Women held its regular monthly dinner meeting Wednesday night of last week in the club home, 656 S. Governor, with the president, Miss Willie Effie Thomas, presiding.

Mrs. James Shearer was chairman of hostesses, assisted by Mesdames James Fellows, Nathaniel Story, Percy Persons and Anna McCauley. The garden committee, of which Mrs. Luther Roberts is chairman, presented a very interesting and beautiful flower shower. Also on the committee are Mrs. Hattie Hopson and Mesdames Story and Fellows. Mrs. Story was in charge of dinner music.

The group has announced that a letter was received last week from O. L. Elliott, manager of the Cuban Sisters, stating that the singers would be available for this area some time in February. Ticket-holders for their concert scheduled earlier this season have been asked to present their tickets for refunds. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Pauline Thompson, HA. 3-2623; Mrs. Thelma Rochelle, HA. 2-6893, or Mrs. Phoebe Porter at Carver Center.

MISS W. E. THOMAS, local NAACP Youth Council advisor, served as a panelist in one of the workshops held during the Indiana State Conference of NAACP Branches convention recently at Muncie on the campus of Ball State Teachers College.

The Sunshine Band of New Hope Baptist Church held its "opening exercise" Sunday, with members of the Memorial Baptist Church Sunshine Band as guests. The "Buds of Promise" were presented, wearing rosebuds, and the Sunshine Band members carried yellow candles.

The welcome was extended by Carol Bradley of New Hope, and the response came from Precious Payne of Memorial. Brenda Caldwell and Marshall Tichenor were crowned "king and queen" of the New Hope band.

Mrs. Thelma Johnson, national-known Gospel singer and first vice-president of the National Song Leaders Convention, closed the

Kokomo Church Hears Rev. Manuel On Anniversary

KOKOMO—Rev. Leonard A. Manuel, pastor of South Calvary Baptist Church, Indianapolis, was guest speaker Sunday afternoon for a special service celebrating the 69th anniversary of Second Baptist Church here.

John Curry was master of ceremonies for the program, which included a welcome address by Mrs. Catherine David. The church history was given by Mrs. Alice Moore, and comments on the progress of the church were made by Rev. J. W. Carr, pastor.

Funeral services for Perry Raymond Smith, 9, were held Monday afternoon at Hood Temple AME Zion Church. Perry, son of Mrs. Helen Smith of Milwaukee and Perry B. Smith, Evansville, died October 16 in Milwaukee.

Burial was in Locust Hill cemetery with the Gaines Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Margaret Taylor, 84, 759 E. Walnut, was buried in St. Joseph cemetery Monday morning following funeral services in the Assumption Roman Catholic Cathedral. The Legion of Mary of the church recited the rosary Sunday night in Gaines Funeral Home.

AT ROOSEVELT, the young musician studied under Dudley Powers, former first cellist with the Chicago Symphony. He later studied with Leonard Rose, New York, former Cleveland Symphony first cellist, and Luigi Silva.

His orchestral experience included seasons with the Chicago Civic Orchestra, National Orchestral Association and the Hartford (Conn.) Symphony.

He is reportedly happy with his new position and has been made to feel "at home" by his fellow musicians and Mr. Szell.

Two of White's brothers back home in Richmond are singers, and a sister plays the piano. His wife is a graduate pianist of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music.

He is reportedly happy with his new position and has been made to feel "at home" by his fellow musicians and Mr. Szell.

During the business session of the meeting, was announced that the Community Welfare Council would again this year sponsor the Christmas Clearing House. The office will be set up in the near future with Merle Davis in charge.

The Toy Counter, part of the project will open Dec. 17 at the YWCA. Mrs. Carl Brady, chairman of the Toy Counter committee, said she would welcome donations of toys and usable articles, as well as gifts of money.

Anyone wishing to help may contact her at the YWCA, phone 2-4142.

THE AIM OF THE CENTER, the speaker said, is to teach "civic pride, race respect and how to meet competition."

In addition to serving both races, Townsend Center serves different age levels than in former years. Instead of teenagers, now served are a younger age group and young adults.

White said he feels the most important job is that of improving race relations.

Townsend Center has at present two full-time workers and two part-time, as well as two students from Earlham College who help out from time to time.

The program includes singing, dancing, sewing, ping-pong, basketball, watching television and numerous other activities. Wheeler directed a group tour through the building.

100 Baptist Women Meet "As One" During Fellowship Move Session

T. Toliver, and Dr. R. T. Andrews about our women coming together in a fellowship meeting. I felt that we should be together, because we could do a better job as one body. As Christians united we should be able to support all our Christian causes in a bigger and better way."

Mrs. Gladys Benedict, second vice-president of the Mt. Olive State Baptist Women's Convention, remarked: "I think this idea of the Baptist women of Indiana coming together is a wonderful one. It is always true that together we stand and divided we fall."

"I thank God for bringing us together in this great fellowship move. May He bless us as we go in His name," said Mrs. G. E. Johnson of Evansville, wife of the president of the Mt. Olive Baptist State Convention.

Mrs. Flora E. Cooksey, also of Evansville and first vice-president of the Mt. Olive Baptist State Convention, said, "I think this is a God-sent blessing, that the women of this state have seen the need for coming together as one. We must continue in the name of the Lord."

MRS. D. B. DUDLEY, wife of the pastor of Galilee Baptist Church, said, "This is a wonderful beginning. I hope it will grow to be the greatest missionary group of women in the State of Indiana."

PRaising BAPTIST leaders for the unity move, Mrs. Washington commented, "Over two years ago I spoke to our president, Dr. H.

"This is one of the greatest joys of my life, to see women of this state coming together as one in the name of the Lord. I hope we will continue together as God would have us to do."

MUSIC was conducted by Mrs. Emma Edwards of Seventeenth Street Memorial Baptist Church and Mesdames Willa Johnson and Susie Thompson of Metropolitan Baptist Church.

Mrs. Edwards was also chairman of a panel discussion presented by Mesdames F. F. Young of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis; Rosie Beverly, Zion Baptist Church, and Clarissa Dudley, Galilee Baptist Church.

IN HER AFTERNOON inspirational message Mrs. Birter Jefferson, Indianapolis, said, "If we can continue in fellowship together as God would have us, if others can see our works and will come out of the darkness we will be doing something real in winning them for Christ and in building a better Kingdom here on earth. We need more grace in our churches and in our hearts. Let us as Christian women of this state strive to unite as one."

Giving the sermon for the closing meeting that night was Rev. A. J. Brown, pastor of Greater St. John Baptist Church.

The group will hold its second annual meeting next year when the parent group holds its convention.

Elder F. F. Young Deserves Honor

With more and more people seeing the worth of "giving flowers to the living," almost weekly someone is honored for some reason or other. Few of the people so honored have deserved recognition as has Elder F. F. Young, venerable pastor of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis. Practically simultaneously with the publication of his book "In The Book," the native Indianapolis has been honored on his 50th anniversary as pastor of one of the city's leading churches. During special golden anniversary celebrations Sunday the minister heard deserved praise from Governor Handley at one extreme of worldly importance and from his humblest church members at another extreme.

Knowing Elder Young as we do, we know he received the praise and expressions of love and esteem with customary cheerful humility, likely even remarking at some apt reference to the Bible, "It's in the Book." What flashed through his mind as he heard testimonial after testimonial, only he and God know. Was it joy at seeing realized the dream of a great Baptist Church on the Northside? Was it satisfaction in the love of probably the biggest "family" in the state? Or was it a premonition that he might, in the next world, hear "well done?"

We can safely say no other minister in this state has crossed denominational lines with the ease of this pastor who understandably prefers being called "Elder" to "Reverend." And it is not because of age alone that he has likely officiated at more baptisms, marriages and funerals than any other local man. What has endeared him eternally to countless thousands is a deep happiness in doing the work of his Master, a joy in serving others too spontaneous to be feigned. Almost unique, even among ministers, in presenting to the public a long life which is absolutely spotless, he shows daily that more people can be saved through love than through stern moralizing. While he himself would likely never get serious long enough to admit it, we all know he is so sincerely loved by others because he sincerely loved them first.

Labor Troubles Go Beyond Union

Recently-developed troubles of the International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers Union of America, Local No. 120, may appear to an unalert Indianapolis public to be solely of concern to the 7000 members of the local. Even casual thought, however, will show that they can soon affect the Negro populace of the city seriously and ultimately make themselves felt in the whole community because of the inexorable laws of simple economics. What affects the men of the union will indirectly and quickly affect the city in its public welfare costs, crime rate and living standards.

If we rightly understand Roland Lolla, chairman of the local's reorganization committee, now at work are forces attempting to strip Negro members of recently-gained power in the local. Duly-elected officers, the bulk of them Negroes, have been illegally removed from office through the machinations of certain white "leaders" who invited intervention from the international office through signatures on a petition gained through the age-old method of ruse, he charges. With Negroes out of office, racial discrimination leads to loss of work for many Negroes who before had sympathetic officials to see to it they were fairly treated.

Lolla fears—and, it seems to us, not unreasonably—that all 4000 of the Negro local members may eventually be out of work. It is not necessary to explain what a problem 4000 suddenly unemployed men will mean to a city the size of Indianapolis, especially when these men have been enjoying one of the highest pay rates of any labor trade union in the state, second only to the Cement Finishers Union. We understand that certain Negro businessmen are already beginning to feel the "pinch." Thousands of families are bound to be affected directly, and because of them thousands more indirectly. The handful of local men carrying on the valiant fight to preserve the gains they made legally deserve the moral and financial support of a community alert enough to realize the importance of their aims.

Racial Tension Growing in Dixie

School integration rioting at Little Rock and its aftermath "are putting new stress on strained race relations in much of the South," the Wall Street Journal said last week, noting that "this added tension could lead to further friction between whites and Negroes—in factories, union halls, business places and in other schools slated to be integrated in coming months." While the article admitted there had been only isolated instances of overt hostility since the school integration problem developed in Little Rock, a clear "legacy of ill will" has been left by the events in Arkansas. "It has prodded a good many formerly passive 'moderates' into taking sides; membership in the actively anti-integration White Citizens Councils in many areas has spurred in recent weeks; contributions to the NAACP have increased too. Propagandists on both sides are stepping up their efforts. So are the agitators."

In this turbulent situation, Governor Orval Faubus of Arkansas emerges clearly as the rotten apple. The irresponsibility of this one man is unquestionably responsible for the increased racial friction. Rabid segregationists and racists, given an aura of "respectability" by the actions of a governor of a sovereign state, speak boldly today of what only yesterday they mentioned in whispers—arming themselves to resist the Federal government, setting themselves in open rebellion against the government of the United States of America; in brief, paving the way for a second Civil War. Refusal to say the Pledge of Allegiance, refusal to hang the American flag, glorification of the Confederate flag and all the shameful things for which it stood, alarming interpretations of states' rights—all these things point to a critical temperament which cannot be ignored.

In sharp contrast to the irresponsible juvenility of Faubus stands the calm, unswerving purposefulness of the NAACP. Attacked by sincere Americans who are uninformed of its true nature by a propagandistic daily press, as well as vilified by those other "Americans" who desperately cling to their insane prejudice for white supremacy, the NAACP may well emerge from the whole struggle as one of the greatest stabilizing forces in the nation today. True, it was the NAACP which, by daring to demand equal rights for the "submerged tenth" of Americans, started the tempest raging. It is also the NAACP which, by placing faith in Constitutional law and supreme belief in the worth of the individual, points the way to the only real solution of the race problem in this country. The racial tension now developing in the South, as well as over the rest of the nation, will pass away—and it will be the much-hated, much-fearing, much-respected NAACP which, will cause that passing away.

Letters to the Editor...

EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters to the editor constitute for many people some of the most interesting reading found in any newspaper. The Recorder, major voice for a large segment of the city's population and recognized as such by a still larger portion, has recently received many long letters of interest. In several instances these letters are by white citizens who have sent us copies of letters only partially reproduced in the daily press. We are pleased to print such letters along with those written especially for The Recorder. Public opinion as expressed in letters to the editor is often influential with public policy-makers: so we urge people with anything to say on any issue of concern to our readers to write.

Open Letter To Workers In Clubs, Hotels

To the Editor:

An open letter to the managers, headwaiters, booking captains, and what-have-yous of clubs, hotels and restaurants in and around Indianapolis:

"Don't you believe that if you paid a decent wage, you could get a decent worker? If so, why don't you pay more than $2.50 for a big banquet consisting of 50 to 800 or 900 people. Regardless of the number, it's the same price, and sometimes the same number of waiters with no increase in salary."

"Another thing, the tip money doesn't go to the waiters, as most banquet committees believe."

"HERE'S AN OUTLINE for 50 to 1000 people: Clubs and hotels pay $2.50 or $3.00 tops and give a waiter 20 to 30 people to serve. The waiter hurries and serves his people as fast as he can. The person or persons giving these banquets think that the waiter is getting a nice tip."

"Well, here's the catch: Many houses stopped the practice of passing 'the kiddy' because it wasn't dignified, so a percentage was added to the total bill to be paid to the headwaiter or whoever collects the bill."

"People who are not in the know would say that 20 or 25 percent of the total bill would make a nice tip for the waiter. It would be if the waiter got it, but the fact of the matter is that he doesn't. After waiting on all of the people he has, he may have to help the other waiters, and what does he get? A lousy $3 tip from the head or booking captain."

"I've waited tables in this city and others, and I can truthfully say that Indianapolis has the poorest set-up I have ever encountered. There was a time here when a man had to pay 25c to the booking captain if he wanted to work. Now the quarter has gotten so small that the booking captain takes it all and tries to make you think he is doing you a favor."

"The average banquet waiter doesn't even make enough to keep him in clean working clothes. The tip for dinner meals is $2.50 to $3, for breakfast you may get a dollar and for lunch maybe $1.50. Some may call it good business practice, but I call it exploitation."

"MOST OF YOU may think this is a fairy tale, but ask any waiter his opinion. If he doesn't agree openly, he is either one of the pact-makers or he doesn't want to lose what little he has."

"The minimum wage law is supposed to be $1 per hour, but there are places here in Indianapolis which pay only $2.50 a week. Now, what kind of take-home pay can you call this?"

"Women doing day work make $6-$8 a day plus carfare. These hotels don't even pay a

Four Laundry Women Praised As Courageous

To the Editor:

One of the most carefully-suppressed stories in Indianapolis today is that of the courageous efforts of four hard-working laundry-workers, Mesdames Ann Lucas, Marie Love, Barbara Lee and Vera Clark, who are making a struggle against what appear to be insurmountable odds to free themselves and their local union from the corrupt domination of their union president, Ted Williams."

You do not have to go beyond the city limits to find a sordid story of a "sweetheart contract," illegally conducted elections, suppression of the right of members to speak at their own meetings, man carfare. After a year's work, he is given one to two weeks' paid vacation, but where can he go? What can he do with only $25, or even $50? A family man couldn't have saved anything toward a vacation."

"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. There are many ways to deprive a man of these — his heritage."

etc., forming a classic example of exploitation of poor, honest, hard-working people who help keep our clothes clean."

These four laundry workers are not fighting for themselves alone. They have the courage of the Marines, for they are speaking for 2000 members of their local union, all of whom are suffering from suppression of their fundamental rights as citizens."

ONE OF THESE women has already paid a big price for her courage. It has been repeatedly reported that she has been fired from her job and, due to intimidation, forced to withdraw from the suit."

Why have newspapers suppressed this story? Editorials in newspapers throughout the country are calling for aroused union members to throw out corrupt influences and to "clean up" their unions. They point to Jimmy Hoffa and say he proves we need legislation to curb such power."

But on local corruption they are silent. Is it because newspapers do not really care about corruption and only want to destroy unions?"

Those who have studied the rise to power of men like Hitler and Hoffa know that it would not have been possible if the spotlight of publicity had been turned on their activities early in their careers."

THE WORLD PAID a terrible price for Hitler's rise. The USA will pay a terrible price for Jimmy Hoffa's rise. Let's

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

The Rock Upon Which The Church Was Not Built

Any suspicion that Little Rock may have been prophetically included in the words of Jesus when He said, "Upon this rock I build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it," were completely dispelled by the action of the churches during the "Battle of Little Rock."

The too-little and too-late effort of some of the churches to view the situation with proper Christian alarm and to offer up some feeble prayers to a God Who would understand their neutrality on the issue of segregation was a travesty upon the religion which they profess.

A more honest attitude was expressed by the 24 churches which openly prayed in pagan fashion for turning back of the clocks to unadulterated segregation.

A larger and more hypocritical group prepared the climate for their appeal to the Christian Church by inserting in the newspapers advertisements stating they were not taking a position on the central moral issue of the conflict.

IN THE MEANTIME churches elsewhere in America were hearing traditional sermons about a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night, indicating complete insouciance toward the moral crisis in Arkansas.

And to people who know the American church, that was not surprising. For not only has the church not actively engaged in the effort to eliminate segregation from American life, it has even been one of the chief architects of racial separation.

The record will substantiate the statement that it was not until 1921 that the large organized body of Protestant churches, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, took official cognizance of the fact that America's treatment of her Negro citizens constituted a chasm between the American creed and the American deed.

In that year the Federal Council established a department of race relations. THE CHIEF WORK of this department was to recommend the setting up of a commission on the church and minority people, the avowed purpose of which was "To strengthen the bases of democracy at home and to make more effective the Church's witness to and practice of the Christian principles of brotherhood."

The commission limited its work to reports and studies not let his hirelings flourish in Indianapolis.

Newspaper reports of the above-mentioned suit have not given the true facts, so the people of Indianapolis have no idea of the desperate plight of these people."

Are all the reporters in Indianapolis dead or just "too busy" or have they been told by their editors to "lay off"?

If so, WHY? An Observer.

and a few protests over lynching and the grossest mistreatment of the Negro and other minorities during the '20s and '30s.

The question of segregation within and without the church was not raised until 1946, when the Federal Council issued a statement saying, "The pattern of segregation (is) unnecessary and undesirable and a violation of the gospel of love and human brotherhood."

The Council asked its member denominations to work for a non-segregated church and a non-segregated society. Since then the governing bodies of most of the denomination outside the South have passed resolutions in keeping with this announcement, but very little has been done to date to implement it.

This is because the Protestant Church has a history which began at the time of the great exploitation of dark-skinned people by whites and has always subscribed to the keeping of racial distance from people regarded by the pseudo-science of the segregationist as inferior.

THE CHURCH HAS NOT only acquiesced in the policy and practice of keeping Negroes in an inferior position in American life; it has aided the program by segregating them in individual congregations and educational, charitable and medical institutions.

That this policy is at variance with the Christian tenet that "There is neither Greek nor Jew, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ is all and in all" has but recently occurred to the church, and then at the prodding of foreign critics of America's domestic sins.

In recent years churchmen have urged the abolition of segregation in the nation's schools and Armed Forces while holding on to the practice in their own institutions and looking the other way while their members practiced discrimination based on race in housing, employment and places of public accommodation.

In spite of the pious pronouncements of the Federal Council and the periodical conventions of the various denominations, fewer than one percent of Negro Christians belong to churches which are not completely Negro, and most white churches in America would be shocked if 10 Negroes were to attend their services on a normal Sunday morning, much less attempt to join.

Of course, the growth of the Negro church and the development of a paid hierarchy has meant that some of them have a vested interest in segregation, but trained investigators have failed to find a Negro church which would turn away any person on account of race.

THE NEGRO CHURCH is segregated, but not segregating.

With the present slow erosion of the attitude of white supremacy on the part of the white man's Protestantism, it is evident that the church is going to have to do a lot of running to keep up with a fast-changing society.

"Some People" Say -- In Our Town

By W. ALEXANDER CHAMBERS

FRANK A. MUELLER, Chief of Police, recently issued a special directive to members of the city police department relating to vandalism and violence during the approaching Halloween season.

Chief Mueller stressed a special effort on the part of members of the department to prevent a needless destruction of property, and to impress on young people and adults alike the cost of such vandalism and the possibility of serious injury and accidental death from so-called harmless pranks of the season.

Members of the department were warned to give special attention to adults wearing "masks" to hide criminal acts. Chief Mueller warned that adults will be arrested on the spot when caught in an act of vandalism. Juveniles will be handled through the Juvenile Aid Division.

Most of our neighbors over the entire city may be inclined to take for granted the special directive issued by Chief Mueller dealing with vandalism and violence perpetrated in the name of the season of "goblins and witches riding through the air on broomsticks." But the facts are that others out of disturbing experiences have knowledge of unbecoming acts of vandalism and violence directed against property real and personal by "manners of gamins" throughout the year hardly less disturbing than the climactic events of the season of Halloween.

Such spectacles of vandalism, during the last two decades, by teenagers have taken on alarming proportions. Yet it is widely asserted that youths of the present day are no different in expressions of "offensive volatility" than their parents or grandparents.

Contrarily, in other days an overwhelming majority of young people were restrained in some manner of action by a sense of fitness of things in their surroundings. This stemmed from home training or parental guidance. Concerning the sociological delinquencies of our times there is a long story in the value and extent of home training or parental guidance.

U. S. SEN. W. E. JENNER (R., Ind.) recently made in Evansville a speech which has been discussed with one of his Democratic contemporaries of good standing on the local political front.

According to press reports, Sen. Jenner raised his Evansville audience that now is the time to discard the welfare state idea and repudiate the paternalistic government that goes with it.

Seeking comment on this particular observation by Sen. Jenner, this writer was told that Sen. Jenner was assailing "things taking place since 1933," but many, many citizens of our land contemplate that "the good Senator's logic and political philosophy border on the plights of the ostrich, who buried his head in the sand of the desert to avoid the storm." Our informer asserted that the leaders of the Democratic Party in Indiana are fully aware of the position of Sen. Jenner on "all composite factors" in things termed a welfare state. And he concluded, it remains to be proved in the language of Abraham Lincoln that "you can fool all the people, all the time."

JOHN J. JAMES, secretary of the Senate Avenue Y.M.C.A., was the speaker recently for the Laymen's League organization of historical Bethel AME Church. Mr. James has been a resident of the city about five years. He has a background of Y.M.C.A. work in Chicago and his home city of Toledo. He is a graduate of the University of Toledo, and in post-graduate work has majored in sociology, physical education and other subjects.

Mr. James, in the opinion of this writer (a sometime newspaper man about four decades), appears to be a man of spirit and purpose eventually to go places and do things.

He spoke to the Laymen's League on the subject, "Reaching The Purple Twilight." He referred to Alfred, Lord Tennyson's "Locksley Hall." Following Lord Tennyson's prophecy, Mr. James in pursuing travel into the ethereal reaches of infinity said, "Let us go a little higher up and there we find the eternal purple twilight of the stratosphere."

He proposed that every major power in the world has been trying in recent years to reach the "purple twilight," and a few have succeeded. The few that have succeeded include the U. S. A. Herein, he suggested that ordinary citizens hitch their wagons to a star, and get into the stratosphere of living on a basis far above the level of people of other nations.

But he proposed at this point that pursuing the "purple twilight" the individual citizen of the greatest nation in world history might need to embrace realistic concepts of "victorious living" or a true sense of responsibility, essentially for good life.

In contrast, he noted among other things that the people of America (U. S. A.) spend 30 billions annually on gambling, 20 billions on crime, 9 billions on alcoholic beverages and 5 billions on tobacco while spending 3 billions on welfare and religion.

He raised numerous challenges on the manners of things confronted by people of our land and time in their adventure or ascent to the "purple twilight." He noted among other things that a citizen of the land of Democracy and Christianity might adopt the motto, "to acknowledge the duty that accompanies every right." And in order to reach the "purple twilight" of human relations, we complete our own right to happiness by the service that we render to others, he emphasized.

Stewart Rambles 65 for Tiger Win Over Scecina

BY CHARLES PRESTON

Attucks picked up a touchdown on Richard Stewart's 65-yard ramble in the 1st quarter at CYO Stadium on Tuesday night and then baffled Scecina defensively the rest of the evening to take a 6-0 victory.

Stewart, the Tigers' hard-running fullback, burst between guard and center on the scoring play, cut to his right in the secondary and was off to the races. He was aided by a fine block thrown by Henry Marks who took out the safety man.

The high-scoring Attucks star twisted his ankle 5 minutes later and sat out the rest of the contest. Speedy halfback Glenn Howard has been lost for the rest of the season because of report card trouble.

With powerful runner Mike Sullivan leading the way, Scecina gained plenty of ground during the evening but couldn't punch across.

Rules infractions hurt the Crusaders at crucial points. In the 2nd quarter they marched from their own 9 to what appeared to be a touchdown pass play, but a glaring offside called the ball back.

ATTUCKS' DEFENSIVE UNIT deserves a big hand for containing the beef-trust Scecina line. It's hard to single out the boys who are playing such great defense for Coach Graham Martin this year. End Joe Martin is certainly All-City, but boys like Chester Winters, Lawrence Broaden and Herman Diamond also turned in sterling plays.

Ron Barbee shifted out of his tackle position to make some nice running gains toward the end.

Attucks now boasts a 6-1-1 record. This finest Green-and-Gold team in many years still has a chance for the city title.

Tan players for Scecina included Jerry Ray, who turned in

Greg Bell's Back Still Painful; Sues Railroads For $75,500

BLOOMINGTON — The athletic career and even the continued college education of Greg Bell, Indiana's Olympic broad jump champion, are endangered by injuries suffered in an automobile accident Aug. 10.

This was revealed last week in Terre Haute when Bell and his wife, Mrs. Clara Bell, filed suit in Vigo Superior Court 2 against two railroads and the city of Terre Haute for $75,500 damages.

A native of Terre Haute and graduate of Wiley high school there, Bell is now a freshman at Indiana University Dental School in Bloomington.

ACCORDING TO REPORTS of the accident, the Bell car, traveling at night, was crossing a railroad intersection where construction work was going on. Ditches had been dug between the railroad tracks but there was no warning flare and the car crashed into a ditch, it is charged.

Mrs. Bell is demanding

$25,000 for alleged injuries that caused her to suffer a miscarriage. Bell seeks $50,000 for a back injury that it is feared might end his broad-jumping career. The sum of $500 is asked for damage to the car.

Defendants in the suit are the New York Central Railroad, the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad and the City of Terre Haute. It is reported that several other persons whose cars suffered accidents at the same spot have al-

Grissom May Get Chance For Butler

Leo Grissom, Butler's fine half-back from Brazil who has returned from an Armed Forces stint, may get a chance to show his wares Saturday as the Bulldogs host Ball State at Butler Bowl.

Grissom intercepted a pass and scored a touchdown as the Bulldogs routed Valparaiso, 27-0, last Saturday.

With several Butler ball-carriers down with the flu, Coach Tony Hinkle may call on Leo for considerable action.

Grid Tigers Face Manual & Wood

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. The sport of high school football, which usually is pretty well out of the way in Indianapolis by Halloween, can thank the flu epidemic for giving it a longer season this year.

The Attucks Tigers, for instance, following a schedule change due to the flu bug, have two games remaining. They are:

Attucks at Manual on Friday, November 1.

Attucks vs. Wood at CYO on Tuesday, November 5.

The Attucks-Manual tilt will be a battle of "ups." Graham Martin's improved team will really have to go in order to cope with classy and high-scoring Manual.

The Redskins, who have lost only to Washington at this writing, are bent on reviving the days when Manual was a Hoosier grid power.

Before getting to Attucks, Manual was scheduled to play host to Shortridge this Friday night, October 25. While not "up" this year, the Blue Devils have shown they are not so far "down" as dopesters thought.

Incidentally, Tech-Shortridge meeting we wrote about last week was another casualty of the virus. It was postponed to Friday, November 8.

ready collected payments in lieu of damages.

WHILE INDIANA UNIVERSITY officials have shown a most unstanding attitude toward their Olympic hero, it is feared that loss of Bell's ability to broad-jump might result in cancellation of his athletic scholarship.

In any case, recognition of the scholarship by a court might set a precedent in the current debate over subsidizing of college athletes. This is a touchy point with I. U., whose football coach, Phil Dickens, is now under suspension for offering too much "gold."

BELL, WHO REPORTEDLY suffered a dislocated vertebra in the accident, has been working out lightly with a little jogging but has not attempted to jump since the crash. He suffers pain upon exercise.

"The question whether he will jump again depends on how he gets along," a source close to the family said.

Mrs. Bell, who is a nurse, was said to be feeling much better recently.

The Bell's attorneys are Leonhardt Baurer and Samuel Beecher, of Terre Haute.

Vincennes Fans Send 'Cap' Embry, Veteran Umpire, to World Series

VINCENNES — Sports lovers of this city recently paid a heart-warming tribute to "baseball's oldest active umpire" as William R. "Cap" Embry was given an all-expenses-paid (and then some) trip to the three World Series games played at Milwaukee.

Embry, 79, has been an umpire for 43 years following his active career as a player. Generations of Vincennes ball players without regard to race or creed have benefited by his keen-eyed and fair-minded arbiting. Last month he was the subject of an article in Ebony magazine.

IN GRATITUDE FOR his decades of dedication to the national pastime, a committee headed by Postmaster J. B. Cogan took up a collection to send Embry to be Series tilts at Milwaukee. Other members of the committee were DETROIT (ANP) — Lightweight champion Archie Moore, having always a sharp eye for a buck, found a $100,000 offer too hard to resist and came to terms for a title defense against Chuck Spieser of Detroit in January.

The $100,000 was a guarantee put up by the challenger, Jack Wathen of Schulteis & Sons, and Howard Greenlee of the Vincennes Sun-Commercial daily newspaper.

Contributions came in from many local former youngsters for whom Embry had umpired, as well as from Long Beach and San Mateo, Calif., Columbus, O., Louisville, Terre Haute and South Bend.

A total of more than $400 was raised. The World Series tickets were obtained through the office of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

When the octogenarian boarded the train for Chicago on the first leg of his journey to Milwaukee, he was wearing a complete new outfit; had his railroad tickets and Series ducats in his pocket; and was assured of the payment of his hotel bill with about $250 left over for other expenses.

WHEN HE RECEIVED the tribute, "Cap" was in a strange position for an umpire — almost speechless.

"I don't know who to say thanks to," he observed with emotion.

'Little Scar' On Gardner's Heart

Willie Gardner will remain in St. Clair hospital, New York City, another week for observation of a heart condition, his mother told The Recorder.

Mrs. Versie Rose, 1130 W. 34th, said her basketball-star son told her he was feeling fine, with no discomfort or pain. Willie informed Mrs. Rose it was not necessary for her to come to New York, as he is not ill.

THE FORMER ATTACKS ace starred with the Harlem Globetrotters and an Army champion team before being purchased by the pro New York Knickerbockers this year. Thirteen doctors examined him when he first went to the Knicks, his mother said.

Gardner played three games with the Knickerbockers before being sent back to the hospital for further examination.

"He had not had any misery or other symptoms, but the doctors said they had found something like a little scar and wanted to get at the bottom of it," Mrs. Rose disclosed.

"The doctors earlier were of the opinion that if his heart is large, it has been so from birth."

Gardner Slated At Cincy Nov. 15

CINCINNATI — Local fans' first chance to see Willie Gardner with the New York Knickerbockers—if the doctors give him the "go" sign for pro basketball—will come Friday, November 15.

At 8:30 that evening (7:30 Indianapolis time) the Knicks will pay their first visit to the Cincinnati Royals, former Rochester club which has moved here.

Experienced players with the Knicks include Willie Naulls and Ray Felix.

In the Cincinnati lineup are the league rebounding champ, Maurice Stokes, as well as Dick Ricketts, Clyde Lovellette and others.

The Knicks' first appearance on TV will be Saturday afternoon, December 14.

who is No. 4 contender, and his brother and manager, Joe Spieser. It was presumed the bout will be held here.

Moore's acceptance came in a telegram to the Michigan Athletic Board of Control, with which the Spieser camp had posted $10,000 as a down payment on the guarantee. The remaining $90,000 had to be posted no later than last Wednesday.

Tan Stars Figure In Big 10 Upsets

EAST LANSING, Mich. (ANP) — Tan players had a hand in a stunning upset Saturday as Purdue vanquished previously unbeaten and top-ranked Michigan State, 20-13.

MEL DILLARD, senior fullback from Chicago, scored a touchdown for the Boilermakers, and TOM FLETCHER kicked a pair of extra points.

The surprise victory was accomplished before 64,950 spectators—the largest home crowd in the Spartans' history.

In another smashing upset BOB MITCHELL, 180-pound senior halfback from Hot Springs, Ark. led Illinois to a 34-10 rout of Minnesota before 69,619 homecoming partisans at Champaign.

Mitchell's running was reminiscent of his sophomore season. He was hobbled with injuries last year after winning All-Big 10 honors in 1955.

On Saturday he scored only one touchdown (a 1-yard plunge), but contributed substantial gains to all of the Illinois scoring drives.

Mitchell also was brilliant on defense. He intercepted a pass, recovered a fumble, and made at least one touchdown-saving tackle.

The Illinois personnel also included L. H. BONNER, substitute halfback, and JOE BELLEPHANT, a starting guard.

BILL MARTIN, Minnesota's swift sophomore halfback from the Windy City, had an uncomfortable afternoon because of his tendency to fumble. BOB BLAKE-LY, junior halfback, also saw action for the Gophers.

Mighty Ohio State scored the most lopsided victory among major colleges when the Buckeyes routed Indiana, 56 to 0, before 78,348 onlookers at Columbus. It was the first time in 19 home games that OSU had failed to draw 80,000 in attendance.

Although not figuring in the scoring, junior halfback DON CLARK was the Buckeyes' work-

White Girl Keglers At Fun Bowl

There will be bowling galore at the Fun Bowl during the next two weeks, including an appearance by one of the leading white girls' teams.

On Saturday at 7 p. m. Kay Jewelers, one of the strongest play teams in the nation, will roll the Ritz Bowl Tornadoes of Chicago. Kay's last year bowled a 3,100 for the highest score in the U. S. Pettie Striebeck led the team with a 197 average.

Then at 4 p. m. Sunday, the newly organized Parker House Sausage team will face the strong Cincinnati outfit. The Parker House crew includes Roy

Nov. 3 the Parker House team will bowl the House of Fine Food from St. Louis. This team has a 925 average and could make trouble for the Parker House boys.

On Nov. 10 the Parker House aggregation will play a return game at Ten Pin Alley in St. Louis.

The Central Alleys have a 1,050 Scratch Tournament 5-man event running three weeks — Nov. 16-17, Nov. 23-24, and Nov. 30-Dec. 1.

Naptown's Leading Teenagers In Halloween Stage Show At Walker

NO. 33 IN A SERIES

WE COULDN'T CONTINUE our thumbnail sketches without pausing to consider what we call the dean of businessmen, and that is none other than Sea H. Ferguson. . . There's hardly an individual in Indianapolis who, if not knowing him personally has not heard of this handsome personage. . . A native of Brownsville, Ky., a devoted son to his parent. . . he and his brother, the late Denver D. Ferguson, came to this city when they were both young men. . . Sea was quick to identify himself with the night club and restaurant business and for twenty-five or thirty years the name of the Cotton Club rang internationally as the place to stop in Indianapolis. . . His chefs were the city's best and they offered the best in foods. . . From soup to nuts. . . He catered to local fun-lovers by having bands to play scintillating rhythms and the best bartenders were on hand, to say nothing of the tops in waitresses.

HE WAS A PLEASANT host to out-of-town friends such as big name band leaders and their musicians. . . the famous Jones brothers of Chicago. . . and other known celebrities. . . He has always maintained a quiet and unassuming manner. . . Interested in young people's activities, he is usually willing to lend a helping hand to anyone with a worthwhile enterprise.

He has been in the restaurant and night club business. . . he devoted in filling stations, a little bit of this and a little bit of that. . . and presently is now a real estate broker.

His name has been listed in Dun and Bradstreet. . . He has accumulated and shared his wealth. . . He is sincere and honest. . . his unassuming nature has made him many friends. . . and he has a special interest in the "little people."

HE HAS ALWAYS BEEN considered a kindly and benevolent employer. . . taking time to hear and understand the problems of those around him and willing to offer advice and help whenever humanly possible to render same. . . He is a devoted family man. . . a proud grandfather.

At one time the Indianapolis populace saw fit to elect him Mayor of Bronzeville and in his acceptance of such he was modest and graciously appreciative. . . There are many charitable acts which have been bestowed by him to less fortunate, but in his benignancy he took no praise or credit. . . He has stamina and determination to weather the storm, regardless as to how rough the ship might be tossed. . . He stands steady at the helm.

HIS APPEARANCE IS always neat and his gracious and warm smile incurs greetings from those who know him wherever he might make an entry. . . Someone, if not everyone, is always glad to see him and to shake his hand in a hand of good fellowship.

There are a lot of adjectives to be used in describing this man of means, but we just like to say enough to let you know some of the intimate things about his character. . . He is a devoted member of Mt. Zion Baptist church, a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity, being a graduate of Lincoln University, Lincoln Pa., a member of the Bachelor Benedict club and Snakes Social club, and is also treasurer of the Central City Real Estate Association. . . Down through the years it has been a distinctive pleasure to greet and to know this man and the little things about him that make him tick. . . More power to you, Mr. Ferguson!

(B. T.)

THE AVENOO? . . . Did you say the AVENOO? . . . Dig Jack! 'tis tighter than Dick's proverbial hat-band. . . And the big BRASS is riding hard on the district with an eye on certain spots along the main stem. . . In fact,

Rock and Roll at its merry best will be the theme of the Halloween Teenage Show at the Walker Theatre Thursday, October 31, at 6:30 p. m. In order to accommodate the expected crowd, doors will open at 6 o'clock.

The big Halloween bill will feature Naptown's leading teenagers (all in person) in an entertaining stage show that will include rock and roll, bop, jazz, ballads and clever dancing by youngsters well-known in the community.

The stage show promises to be one of the best ever witnessed here by pleasure lovers. Dancers and singers of all ages are included in the fast-moving vehicle which has been in rehearsal for several weeks. (NOTE TO ENTERTAINERS: This is your last chance to enter the mammoth stage show at the Walker. . . Call Matthew Dickerson, president of 20th Century Attractions at once—ME, 4-5663.

Make up a party of friends and attend this gala Halloween stage show at the Walker theatre Thursday, October 31. Show time is 6:30 p. m. Doors open at 6 sharp. Music for the show will be provided by Bob Womack and his Bobcats All-Stars, Naptown's popular swinging aggregation.

Admission in advance is 55 cents at the Walker theatre box office, and 75 cents at the door.

Florida. . . The lovely Johnnie May Smith of Covington, Ky. spent the weekend here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Laverett Bronaugh (Louise) in Bellefontaine st. . . Johnnie May and Louise are sisters. . . Joining in a party at the Bronaugh's Saturday night were Bobby Summers and the fascinating Mildred Irvin of Hopkinsville, Ky. and yours truly. . . Johnny Franw is doing a good job as bartender at the Cotton Club. . . Dig this fella in action this Friday and Saturday.

MRS. MARY HENRY is doing fine following an attack of the flu, which had her grounded for 2 wks. . . Thanks to Lillian Jackson for that delicious dinner last wk. . . The lady operates Lil's Fine Foods in the heart of the main stem. . . Albert Burks is back on the job after 2-wks battling with the flu. . . He's doing fine and came in to prove it last Friday in the p. m. . . Don't forget to order your Christmas cards and other holiday novelties from Henry Lee at 518 W. North st. . . It would be a good deal. . . (Whatchabett.)

IN THE MAIL BAG FROM LAST WK. . . A fine scribe came in from Edward D. Hansford, Jr. from St. Paul, Minn. . . The fella sends his regards to friends, one of whom died last Saturday and also reports the death of his baby boy who died October 3. . . (We extend to him and the missus our deepest sympathy). . . The rest of the family (2 girls) are doing fine. . . Another nice letter came in from Cyril Moore in Cincinnati. . . She writes that she'll be seeing us subsequently. . . And for us to roll out the "Red Carpet" when she rolls in (on rubber, of course). . . We shall be waiting for the lady's appearance with CARPET and all.

BREEZING ALONG WITH THE NEWS. . . Nola Chinn and Hazel Harris are doing a jam-up job serving good wholesome food at the Big M Tavern at 2140 N. Illinois. . . The young ladies specialize in regular meals, short orders and tasty sandwiches. . . Drop in and taste some of their delicious home-cooking. . . "Twould be a 'mello" . . . Believe Me! . . . The well-known vocalist Preston Johnson and Willis Bennett jumped into the wigwam last Tuesday and did things up real fine. . . That's Preston to a T. . . Incidentally, the fella will give out with "Around the World in 80 Days" when he hits the stage at The Recorder's forthcoming Christmas Show. . . The fella is GOOD!

VISITED THE NEW JUNIOR'S LOUNGE at 2501 E. Minnesota st. last Saturday in company with Cecil Watson and Bob Davis, and caught the bistrot full of action 2 hrs. past noon. . . The place is really on the ball offering the best in service plus good wholesome food. . . We know because we ate on the HOUSE—fried chicken with salad and french fries, de-licious. . . Ooh—Ooh! and we do mean DELICIOUS. The popular Tuffy Mitchell did the treats (food) that is. . . Seen enjoving themselves at another table were, the lovely Lucybell Herron, her daughter and party. . . Dig this bistrot managed by Mack Hazelwood over this weekend.

BUD TYLER, THE NORTH-SIDE taxi man, is up and around, following a few wks. stay in General Hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident several wks back. . . The popular ex-waitress Louise Washburn is infanticipatin'. The girl is real Gone! . . . Mrs. Lella Murray will leave this week for Miami.

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—This week we are resuming this popular picture column of your favorite local musicians—entertainers—At the request of you out there and we do mean you—OUR READERS. However, we would like for the local show folk to send their photos and a short history of their music-playing-singing backgrounds in order that we, of the Theatrical Dept. can put their business in the street. In other words, insert same in this popular column for your reading pleasure.)

To start this second part of the series off, we give you one of Naptown's favorite bandleaders, none other than—Willis "Mr. Hammond" Dyer, who needs no introduction to the music-lovers and dancers of our fair city.

"Mr. Hammond" started his musical career some ?? years back while a student at Attucks high school. During that time he played in the orchestra of then popular Jimmy Nicks along with the late Ernest Wharton, alto-tenor saxman, and Bob Womack, drums. Later he played with Dud Starns and at the present time, is currently waiting with his own combo of five years or more at the Cactus Club out 30th Street way.

A few of the top spots played doing his short career of being a bandleader are: P and P Club, George's Bar and Orchid Room, Tropic Club, Cotton Club, Sunset Terrace and many other fine places in the Middle-west. The cats are fast going places in the musical world and we understand that in the very near future the group will make a few records for a popular recording company. . . (Bob Womack).

ENTERTAINER NAT "KING" COLE and his family relax at their Los Angeles home where they'll greet Edward R. Murrow on "Person to Person" Friday, November 1, over the CBS Television Network. The Coles are (l. to r.) Carol "Cookie," wife Marie, Nat and Natalie "Sweetie."

Predict Long Broadway Stand For Lena Horne's "Jamaica" NEW YORK (AP) With the announcement that tickets for Lena Horne's show "Jamaica" will go on sale this week, the box office at the Imperial Theatre has been busy since it opened. However, producer David Merrick has been flooded with orders for tickets, assuring the Horne show a decent run if not a long one on the Great White Way. Pre-opening notices have been excellent and as expected La Lena is running away with the production.

Audie Murphy, James Stewart In "Night Passage" At Walker Sun.

Audie Murphy has become the first top action star in Hollywood history to undergo at the height of a fabulously successful career, the transition from hero to villain. Grasping an opportunity to change pace which has been consistently shunned by such movie greats as Alan Ladd, Gary Cooper and John Wayne, Murphy co-stars with Jimmie Stewart as his bad brother in Universal-International's big Technidrama outdoor thriller, "Night Passage," which opens Sunday at the Walker Theatre.

In the picture, Audie defies his brother, who has tried to protect him during a career of villainy, robs a payroll train and becomes a member of a ruthless killer gang.

This is a thing which no self-respecting box office idol has attempted in many decades of tall-in-the-saddle heroism. Murphy does it with a careless smile in the face of advice to the contrary by Hollywood's wisest men and in defiance of thousands of fan letters begging the screen and real life hero to "stay," as one letter put it, "as nice as you are."

The fuss is about a tradition the fans want Murphy to cling to. They want their heroes to do in all the "heavies" and ride off into the sunset with the heroine. They do not relish their favorites biting the dust.

On the other hand, Audie Murphy is not one to walk the line of convention. No conventional soldier could have won every medal in the book including the Congressional Medal of Honor and become history's most decorated soldier. He took a chance with his life every battle day of World War II. Why, he figures shouldn't he take a chance on his career?

"I hate to use a cliché," he said, "but variety is still the spice of life. I've been in a rut. Too much sweetness and light. In 'Night Passage' I'm a bad boy and I love it."

Other half of the bill is "Prince and the Showgirl" with luscious Marilyn Monroe in colorful action. COMING: "Band of Angels" for one week's showing, starting Halloween (Thursday).

Nina Kaufman's Opening Of Ritz Lounge, Fri.-Sat.

With Music By

Jimmie Cole's Combo

The well-known and popular Nina Kaufman is back in town in a big way, and has announced the grand opening of her new Ritz Lounge, 2648 N. Harding, for this Friday and Saturday.

The newly renovated bistro will feature entertainment nightly, with Jimmy Cole's Combo doing the musical honors during opening week. Miss Kaufman is sparing no expense in order to bring to the many entertainment lovers, the best possible attractions for their enjoyment.

As proof of the esteem in which she is held by former employees, she will present "the same old gang" that worked for her during the 11 years she operated the beautiful and ritzy Ritz Lounge on the main stem. Included in the "old gang" who'll serve you nightly and politely, are the well-known mixologists Tom Martin and Lee Lawrence; waitresses: the lovelies, Catherine and Muriel, plus the pleasing Dorothy as chef. The cozy establishment will specialize in mixed drinks, choice whiskies, popular brands of beers and the best in wines. The new Ritz will also feature a regular noon-day luncheon, plus steaks, chops, sandwiches and seafoods. The bistro will be open from 11 noon until 12 midnight and will offer a carry-out service for your convenience.

The affable and congenial Nina, a relative of Phil Harris, radio and TV star, and a good friend of Duke Ellington, noted bandleader, was formerly associated with the Washington office of the NAACP, and is known from Coast to Coast for her business acumen in operating "Places of Distinction" for discriminating people. Already you hear the saying: "If it's Nina's it's got to be fine."

And that folks, is just what the new Ritz Lounge is gonna be. FINE! Take your friends out to her new bistro over the week end.

(NOTE: The new Ritz Lounge is owned solely by Nina Kaufman with John Brooks as auditor.)

Jazz Music Group Seeks Members

The Jazz Music Appreciation Group met recently at the Senate Avenue YMCA for the purpose of forming an organization devoted to jazz music.

Discussed at the meeting were plans for an election of officers, adopting a constitution, investigating the possibilities of joining record clubs and contacting local record distributors concerning purchasing records and LP's at discount rates.

Following the discussion members proceeded to play their choice LP of their respective record collections, which included numbers by top artists.

Those present were: Miss Gewanda Hall, Earl L. Jones, James Clay, Charles Prather, Andrew Dixon, Homer Jones, Stanley Lee and Donald Hobbs.

Persons interested should contact Joe Downey or Donald Hobbs at ME. 4-2478, or attend the next meeting, Sunday, Nov. 10 at the Y.

DR. BUNCHE CONTINUES IN THE AIR

Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations Mediator is enroute to Vienna for the International Atomic meeting. He is expected back at his desk in November. Mrs. Bunche accompanied her husband on the European trip. The battle for equality is slowing, being won according to Mayor Wagner who spoke at the nineteenth annual observance (Interfaith Day).

Theatrical Tidbits

NINA KAUFMAN'S RITZY RITZ LOUNGE

THE EFFERVESCENT Jimmie Cole and his dashing "Cole Taters," will rule the "musical roost" during the grand opening of affable Nina Kaufman's ritzy Ritz Lounge this Friday and Saturday nites and in the following weeks.

THE SWANK new bistro with its fine embellishments is located at 2648 N. Harding, and will feature the music of the "Cole Taters" in an atmosphere of superb congeniality with perfect decorum.

NINA KAUFMAN is known far and wide as a connoisseur of "fine bistros" has really come up with a "dream palace" of exquisite beauty. You MUST see it for yourself to appreciate the dignity that surrounds this fascinating "drink" emporium. It's a "MUST" this week end!

PROF. BALL ON JAZZ

The general public is cordially invited to hear Professor John W. Ball's talk on "The Study of Jazz" at 8:30 p. m. Friday, Oct. 25, in the World War Memorial.

Professor Ball, associate professor of English at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and an authority on jazz music, will show the contribution that a study of jazz music can make to an understanding of American culture. His talk will be illustrated with recorded interviews on disc and tape with famed musicians playing in the jazz tradition.

RECORDER CHRISTMAS SHOW

THE RECORDER'S ANNUAL Christmas show has gotten off with a BANG!... Already, several well-known entertainers have signed up for what is considered locally, the most entertaining vehicle of merriment ever presented in this bailiwick. It has been "style" "A copesetic extravaganza of midnite pleasure on the off-beat rip..." In fact, it's just what the "doctor" ordered. So, make a date TODAY to attend this celebrated benefit affair when the Date rolls around.

LIVE MUSIC GAINING IN BISTROS

THE TAVERNS HAVE LOST AN HOUR... But they are going for live entertainment like nobody's business. Those using hands include: Cotton Club, George's Bar, Spier's Tavern, Cactus Club, Ritz Lounge, Club Udell, Southway Tavern, 40th St. Tavern, Big "M" Tavern and the 19th St. Tavern. They'll continue to do so as long as you and your friends keep patronizing them.

POLICE 'DIG' ADDICT IN E. KITT'S ROBBERY

NEW YORK (AP) — Police picked up a confessed dope addict who they said is the man who last July 9 looted the Manhattan apartment of singer-dancer Eartha Kitt. He is John Fernandez, a resident of the Bronx. Police quoted him as saying he was driven to steal by the need to obtain money for narcotics. He is accused of taking a total of $14,000 in jewelry, furs and other articles from Miss Kitt's apartment.

DOT DANDRIDGE SETTLES LIBEL FOR $55

LOS ANGELES — Pretty Dorothy Dandridge, radio, TV, stage and screen star, settled out of court a $2,000,000 libel suit against Hep magazine for an "undisclosed sum of cash and a personal letter of apology."

MISS DANDRIDGE had filed suits against Good Publishing Company of Fort Worth, Tex., in Los Angeles Superior Court and in a federal district court at Fort Worth, as the result of an article in the January, 1957 issue of Hep entitled, "Dorothy Dandridge and Her 1000 Lovers."

MUSICAL UPBEAT

by BOB WOMACK

WHAT IS HI-FI?... There are some people to whom the expression "high fidelity" has a mysterious and expensive significance. There is nothing mysterious about hi-fi. In a broad sense it simply means "accurate reproduction of sound." In other words, the recording company attempts to bring the listener, on record or tape, a faithful reproduction of what the musicians are playing in the studio.

THE SOUND HAVING been "captured," it is now up to the phonograph or player to maintain that same faithfulness or quality in bringing the sound to the ears of the listener. Many years of research and experimentation have gone into the production of today's high fidelity equipment. The human ear is a very sensitive instrument and duplicating its functions, by mechanical means has been a simple task.

THE FACT THAT this has been achieved (and even surpassed) is a great tribute to the world's electronic experts. The records and tapes now being manufactured by reputable recording companies are so accurate that if they are played back on an adequate machine the ear can detect little variation from the original performance. The recording companies having performed their part of the hi-fi function, it is now up to the listener to decide what is an adequate machine or phonograph for the reproduction.

HIS EARS WILL DETERMINE the degree of faithfulness he demands. If the listener is accustomed to hearing a small, outdated phonograph, he will be amazed and gratified by the sound which even an inexpensive modern set produces. It is "higher fidelity" than the set to which he is accustomed. The listener who has kept "up-to-date" on sound demands a more sensitive, more expensive set because his ear has trained itself to recognize discrepancies in the performance of the inferior machine. His interest and desires become such that his ear will be satisfied with nothing less than a large, powerful, multi-speaker set.

IN RECENT YEARS, the words "binaural" and "stereophonic" have found their way into the hi-fi vocabulary. These words merely refer to the fact that we hear out of both ears. If you go to a concert Continued on Page 14

HEADACHE?

NEW TESTS PROVE

BC BEATS 'EM ALL!

...AND BC WON'T UPSET THE STOMACH

If you've taken BC, you know it acts fast on headaches.

Now, scientific tests prove you're right.

An independent medical organization gave people four leading headache remedies at different times.

ONE MINUTE after dosage, they took a small blood sample from each person. They found more BC pain-relieving ingredients in the blood stream. More than from the leading plain aspirin, the leading buffered aspirin or the leading compound. And other tests showed BC won't upset your stomach.

Get the fastest head-start on headaches—with BC. It's fast—gentle, too. Buy the familiar BC powders, for work or at home. Or get BC tablets, in the handy tin or in an economical large bottle.

Westsider Held As Robber Of Red Cab Driver

(William Maxwell Richardson, Jr., 19, 713 N. West, was arrested early Sunday, Oct. 13, after a Red Cab driver identified him as one of two men who had robbed him of his wristwatch and some $35 in cash.

The driver, Lawrence Stephens, 55, 919 N. Pennsylvania, told police the two men robbed him at knife point. The officers then went to 19th and Yandes, where fellow-policemen were held Richardson as a suspect.

On his person was found a "hook bill" knife, a wrist watch and $8.65. He was arrested for armed robbery after Stephens made the identification and implicated a Terrell Smith, 2100 Hillside, as his accomplice.

THOMAS BEARD

Funeral services were held Oct. 9 in the New Light Baptist Church for Thomas Beard, 55, 739 W. Michigan, a self-employed truck operator who died October 6 in his home. Burial was in Floral Park.

Mr. Beard was born in Meridian, Miss., and lived in Indianapolis for the last 23 years. He was a member of the New Light Baptist Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Anna Mae Beard; a son, Thomas Beard, 11; 7 sisters, Mrs. Anna Mae Jones, of Chicago, Mrs. Lucille Smith of New York City, and Misses Nettie Beard, Ruby Beard, Susan Beard, Martha Beard and Grace Beard and a brother, William Beard, all of Meridian.

Stuart Mortuary conducted the funeral services.

cert and close one ear, the sound changes. Your sense of direction is disturbed by the fact that you must hear sounds from both sides of the stage through one ear. Unplug the ear and the balance and direction are restored.

SINCE HI-FI is concerned with creating the "illusion" that the listener is attending an actual performance, engineers set out to complete that illusion by giving the music the same balance and "direction" which the listener would hear at a "live" performance. This has been accomplished by setting up two or more microphones to record various sections of the orchestra.

THE SOUND PICKED UP by these microphones is then recorded on separate "tracks" of the recording tape. When the tape is played back, the sound on each track is "sent" to a different speaker. Thus if the speakers are placed in different parts of the room, the listener hears part of the orchestra coming from one side of the room and part from the other... just as he would at an actual performance. The sense of direction which the ear requires is satisfied and the illusion of a "live" performance is complete.

LOST WEEK-END HAPPENINGS... Harvey French and his new combo featuring the one and only, Raymond "Sid" Valentine, trumpet star had the Anderson, Ind., Community Center Jumpin' Harvey and the boys played for a leading social club formal dance.

Little "Mr. Blues" Chisley did the vocal honors... Al Officer Sr., his tenor sax plus trio worked at the Little Flower's Catholic Ballroom for a church pre-Halloween affair. The group were well received by the guests. We have been advised that Mr. Officer signed for future church commitments on the spot... Much luck my friend... The P and P Club down Avenue-way opened its doors again with a unit of young musicians on the bandstand. Some years back the club was one of the leading nite spots with only the best folk attending.

DR. ARTHUR HOWELL, one of Naptown's leading young physicians with offices at 21st and Blvd. Pl. and a personal friend of the Musical Upbeat, recently talked "much" music; in fact, the Doc is real gone on the subject and has many musician friends over the city. You wanta believe when I tell you... CONFIDENTIAL... Nat "King" Cole, one of the greatest sepi singing artists of our time is currently on a movie set in Hollywood. Nat will play the leading role (W. C. Handy) in the film, "The St. Louis Blues." As you (some) know, Handy, now 83 years young, composed "The St. Louis Blues" and other blues numbers. Cole and W. C. are both sons of ministers. Their fathers were not pleased at the idea of their sons invading the jazz-pop-blues-bald field. For your information, this writer is also a minister's son, in fact, the only child in the family with So, I can understand the above. Believe me... (smile).

MANY THANKS to ex-policeman Dave Clark and his lovely wife, Fannie, for the fine time given us while a visitor recently in their beautiful pad (home) out North Capitol Avenue-way. Dave is one of our "all-time musical greats" and at one time before becoming a member of the force was one of the best tenor sax men in the Midwest. "Mr. Sax" worked with the late Brown Buddies orchestra during the late 20's and early 30's and with other top-flight bands of that era. The musicians are pulling for him to return to his first love—PLAYING MUSIC... What about it my friend?

SICK LIST... Mantan Phillips, 88-year and former sideman with Count Fisher, Buddy Parker and recent of Bob Womack and the Bobcats All-Stars combo, is reported to be on the fair list at this writing in General Hospital. All of his friends are wishing him a fast recovery.

Hazel's Annex Hotel Extends Appointments

The management of the Hotel Hazel Annex, 2140 N. Capitol, announces to the public that a recent program of remodeling has not been completed, but the hotel's accommodations have been continuously open to the public, transient and resident.

Apologies are extended to all prospective guests on account of any inconvenience encountered during the remodeling operations. While it is cited that the traveling public or transient guests, motorists, may regret the hotel via the parking lot in the rear or directly from the front on Capitol.

The management states that facilities have been enlarged to afford more of the same modern, clean and inviting accommodations offered always heretofore at the Hotel Hazel Annex. Phone, WA. 3-2841.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR—MAN AND WIFE SHOT

Under arrest after they shot each other through the hand Oct. 10 were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woods, 2407 Hovey.

At first, police were called to the address to investigate a "woman shot" call. On arrival they found Mrs. Mary Louise Woods, 46, had been shot in the left hand, either by herself or Mr. Woods, who was himself shot through the right hand.

Both were arrested on charges of assault and battery with intent to murder. The weapon, a .38 revolver, was recovered from the glove compartment of Woods' station wagon.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Open Letter To
S. C. Governor

To the Editor:
Enclosed is a copy of a letter I sent recently to South Carolina's Governor John Bell Timmerman, Jr. It may be of interest to your readers.
"Dear Sir:
"In the press recently you were reported as saying that President Eisenhower was acting as a dictator and that his action in sending troops to Little Rock 'may be taken as further evidence of an effort to communize America.'
"Naturally one in your position has to say some things for public consumption, and I have no way of knowing that you were quoted correctly.
"AS PRESIDENT of United States, Eisenhower has to enforce the laws of our country, and you must know from our history that the same thing has been done dozens of times.
"As a matter of fact, your state left the Union in 1861 for the same reason, and if you give States' Rights as the cause of the Civil War, you will find your state right back in the same position it was then.
"Are we going to have a repetition of that same thing over again? Someone in Little Rock said wars have been fought over less.
"I the President of the United States finds it necessary to occupy communities and cities which want to start rebellion over the rights of colored children to attend certain schools, he would find himself in a very embarrassing position. But where would you be?

"Obviously you have nothing to gain by trying to force the hand of our President in that manner, as he would have to keep his oath of office and enforce the law.

"SOME OF US have been hoping that you would be able to work out a better solution. I am attaching a picture of a white man on the back of a Negro) of what some folks would like to do to the Negro in Little Rock. When no one is around, this is what one can expect.

"Is it not about time that people like this get off the back of the Negro and at least fight this issue as civilized men should? To put the question another way, can we not show the civilized world that we are just a little more human than this man who slips up behind the Negro and throws him to the ground?

"The people who dominated your state about a hundred years ago led you down the same dreary road, and you yourself know what a price you paid for that sort of thing. Why not try some of the modern and more progressive ideas?

"I hope you will not think I am trying to 'communize' you and your people. I am sure you know our President is not a Communist."

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

Hi, lovers! You really let the letters pour in this week. I take it for granted by your many cards and letters that you really enjoy reading TEEN TALK. Almost all of this week's news told of nothing but what the lovebirds were doing. Gloria Hutchins is saying "What for I Do" since Melvin is trying for Nancy Broddus . . . Say, Pat Holman, when are you going to tell us your lovers name? You can't keep it a secret very long . . . I hear that Sharon Warren kills for a certain boy that lives on the Southside. Let's know who this young boy is, Sharon . . . Betty Sue Smith, what happened to the Cloud No. 9 you and Phil Barnes used to be on? Don't come down so quick, kids, give it another chance.

I hear that Leon Pillow goes for Mary McGee like bees go for honey. How about it, Leon? . . . Odell Donel has been singing "I Want You To Be My Girl" to Pat Myers and I was told that she very much wants him to be her boy too.

By the way, I was told that there is a new club called the "Royale Capris." Bernadine Jackson is president; Ellen Beaman, vice-president; Pat Holman, secretary; Betty Hudson, treasurer, and other members are Annis Lyles, Hallie Showers, Donna Chester, Harrietta Harper, Marilyn Anderson, Barbara West, Norma Oldom and Lynda Blackman.

JEROME RENDER, I was told to inform you to stop playing the field and to settle down to one girl . . . As the breeze was blowing past this morning it told me that a girl by the name of Bettie Sweeney is just taking everybody's boyfriends. Is this true, Bettie? . . . While on the subject of taking boyfriends, the breeze also seemed to say something about Carolyn Anderson taking Preston Cosby away from Helen Stevenson.

Larry McIntyre, a certain cute little girl you see every third and fourth period is just killing for you. Why don't you start paying more attention, son?

Nancy Sue, why did Coleman Mayfield quit you? Don't tell me that you weren't being true . . . The grapevine is saying that some stud that answers the call of Jonny Love has the West and Eastside all shook up with his peach-colored Ford convertible . . . They say love is strange, and no one knows better than Judy Garvin and Leonard Hiser. Right, kids? . . . Ilene Workman, who's your Romeo now? Let's not keep it a secret . . . Rose Crowe, what happened to you and this Southside boy this summer?

Say, Peggy Green, I hear a certain boy at School 26 is singing "I Am A Janpanese Sandman." Come on, Peggy, give the boy a little chance. O. K.? . . . Edgar Searcy, there is a cute girl with the initials of S. C. that kills for you. You better find out who it is . . . It seems as though Georgia Evans is still hanging on Cloud No. 9 with Steven Brown . . . Carolyn Poindexter and Luser Oliver seem to have fallen off their seat on Cloud No. 9. What happened, Luser?

SAY, KIDS, LET'S TRAVEL to the Southside for a little news . . . Hey, Joyce Barker, word comes that you and Peter Goodall are steady talking about how love has joined you two together . . . I hear that Carolyn Brewer and Hubert Hackett are like two peas in a pod . . . Theresa Davis, who are you trying to work your mojo on now? . . . Say, Laura Dinwiddie, I hear you're talking to a certain boy on Tech's campus by the name of John Ivey. What does your steady, John Harris, think about it?

Raymond Brewer, who do you have in mind lately? Is it not Margaret Washington or Sharon Oham? . . . Norman Thompson and Buddy Jackson are telling everyone that Cloud No. 9 isn't high enough for them . . . Marcella Quarles, why don't you and Thomas Stubbs make up? You two make a cute couple . . . Ramona Bushby, tells us who your lover is. A certain person would like to know if he stands a chance . . . I hear that Janice Hill and Charles Brandon will soon be crowned "King and Queen of Love" on Cloud No. 9 . . . Patricia Robinson, who is stealing all of your loving affection? Could it be Jimmy Love, James Robinson or Kenneth Lee? Come on and tell us . . . Davina Sanders is singing to Roy Love "I'm Sorry I Made You Mad." Come on, Roy, and give the girl another chance.

James Blakemore is singing "Come Go With Me" to Sandy Crosby. Well, Sandy it's your move now . . . Larry Jones, I hear that you are receiving competition for Vicki Porter. Dempsey Douglas and Richard Ganaway are trying to make some headway . . . I hear that Millie Hanley and Betty Terry are going strong with a couple of guys that they met in Columbus . . . Stephanie Cox, why don't you stop playing the field all the time and settle down with you know who? . . . I hear that a little girl by the name of Brenda Wilson kills for a chance with Robert Smith . . . The Snooper is glad to hear that Michael Scott and Vickie Bulford are getting along just fine . . . I hear that Michael Seymour and Ruth Whitehurst are climbing to the top of the list of lovers on Cloud No. 9 . . .

BUCK TINNIN and Wanda Taylor are looking like the coolest and truest couple ever . . . Ellen Beaman seems to like both of the Walker boys. What about this, Ellen? . . . Patricia Jones still has eyes for Herman Maxey . . . Ivan Grubbs and Diane Colbert are still making it cool . . . Fred Smith has been walking the halls with Vickie Porter; the Jones boy isn't going to like that, Vickie . . . Donald Byrdson, you're not playing the "Game of Love" right to Donna Carpenter. Let's not have this Alvin Gaddie is leading the Parker House League by 10 points after rolling 664-233-235. Gaddie has a 197 average, which has 611-594-593 in it.

Alvin won the league in the 1955-56 season. He did not bowl last year.

IT SEEMS THE secretaries of the Fun Bowl leagues are forgetting one of the things they are paid for—getting memberships in to the ABC. This should have been done not later than the third night.

I hear John "Coly" Vardiman is visiting Shirley Racliffe.

Brenda Barnett, who is it, Jerome Johnson or Steven Brown? . . . Bonnie Westbrook, it seems like you are keeping it cool. Come now child, there's more than one fish in the sea . . . Annie Reynolds, I hear you are calling a guy with the initials of D.N. . . . Joe Riley, it seems that you have competition, Donald Miller, is trying to get Cornelia Garlin . . . I hear Beverly Henslie is making time with a certain boy named Mansfield, but she says she's got her eyes on Robert Weddington and him only.

I hear William Foust is still trying to sing "Come Go With Me" to a certain girl on Roosevelt . . . Brenda Barnett, why don't you give Jerome Johnson a chance to prove he can be your true love? . . . Lillian Anderson, why don't you come down off your Ivory Tower and give the boys a chance? . . . Elizabeth Seay, who is your lover boy these days, or are you just cooling your heels?

Matinee Conn still kills for Steve "Kipper" Warren. Let's give the girl a chance, Kipper . . . I horse until the regulars were removed from the game in the 2nd period. Clark gained 81 yards in 11 carries.

JIM PACE scored a pair of touchdowns and AL GORCE another Michigan overcame a stubborn Northwesten eleven 34 to 14 before 70,334 homecoming fans at Ann Arbor.

Pace did outstanding running on kickoff returns. He brought back one for 33 yards and another for 32.

Gorce, a sophomore, scored Michigan's final touchdown—his first in college competition.

End FRED WILLIAMSON was the Wildcats' outstanding passer while WILMER FOWLER and DON BURTON, halfbacks, made several fine runs.

hear Tearsa Wade is singing "Play It Fair" to Betty Richardson . . . Warren Smith, a lot of girls are interested in you. Keep your eyes open and look around, you might be surprised at what you see . . .

Ernestine Jones still has a special place in her heart for Melvin Jeter . . . Artis Lyles, the word is around that Marcel Elliot is singing "Please Come Back To Me." Let's not treat the boy this way.

Barbara Fletcher and Benny Brown have broken up. Too bad, kids . . . Robert Cameron is telling a lot of girls "Come Go With Me." Aren't you girls following? . . . Marva Smith, I hear you are now liking Jim Black. How about this? . . . Cecilia Ward and James Johnson are going together like bees and honey . . . The word is out that George Flag is singing "Please Be Mine" to Dianna Tucker . . . Say, Ramona Busby, who is your lover these days? Bill Adams?

Bapt. Directors Adopt Several Measures

The board of directors of the State Wide Baptist Fellowship unanimously adopted several recommendations during the recent sessions held in Shiloh Baptist Church here.

Among others, objectives recommended and approved were as follows:

The four state conventions hold a State Wide Baptist Fellowship meeting of the same type in Indianapolis Oct. 7-10, 1956 in the city of Indianapolis. The board of directors was authorized to draft a program and designate the church and necessary steps for the session.

The four state presidents recommend to their respective conventions or state bodies that these bodies hold their annual 1956 sessions in the same city at the same time. The time and place to be mutually agreed upon.

The four state presidents appoint, at their earliest convenience, a study committee of three from each of the state organizations, to make up a State Wide Study Commission of twelve. This Study Commission will meet with the four state presidents, elect its own officers, study, plan and make such recommendations to the four state bodies as may lead to the unity of the Baptist churches into one convention.
